Both Injunction and Contempt Cases Come to End at Indianapolis.

REQUEST IS MADE
BY PETITIONERS

Explain That Employees in
Ft. Wayne Had Quit and Places Are Filled.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Requests for a permanent injunction in connection with the Fort Wayne street car strike, as well as citations for contempt of court against Joseph C. Colgan, a member of the executive board of the national union of street car employees, and James E. Hooper and Claud B. Houston, leaders of the street car employees in Fort Wayne, were dismissed by Judge A. B. Anderson in federal court here today.

The hearing on the request for a permanent injunction was set for tomorrow, but attorneys for the United States Mortgage and Trust Company of Philadelphia, bondholders of the Fort Wayne street car company, moved today that the prayer be dismissed.

It was explained that the injunction was sought to prevent a strike, but since the temporary order had been issued the employees had quit work and that now the company had filled their places with new men.

The temporary order was issued last month and the next day the men went on strike. Colgan and the other Fort Wayne leaders were then cited for contempt.

BIG SHELL BARELY MISSES REPAIR SHIP

Panther in Range of Tests
of 14-Inch Missile at Proving Grounds.

New York, Oct. 26.—The repair ship Panther, of the United States navy, had a narrow escape from being hit by a 14 inch shell fired from the proving grounds at Sandy Hook today. The large projectile flew directly over the Panther and struck in the ocean about a mile beyond her.

The Panther, with a number of other war vessels taking part in the maneuvers off the coast, received a fleet that is defending the entrance to New York harbor. Early today these vessels came within range of a 14 inch gun which is being tested at the proving grounds and the narrow escape of the Panther from a shell was the result.

The commander of the Panther immediately after the shot was fired sent a wireless report of the incident to the commanding officer at Fort Hancock.

The other vessels of the fleet defending the harbor in the war game likewise came within range of the big guns at Sandy Hook although none of them had the close call of the Panther. These were the mine planter General Mills, General Frank and General Scholz, all of which were cruising off the New Jersey coast while the gun test was being conducted. The Panther was flag ship of the little fleet. Earlier in the forenoon a shot from the 14 inch gun passed well to the seaward of the mine planters. A flotilla of six torpedo boats and destroyers was patrolling further eastward at the time. The Panther was about seven miles from shore when the shell passed over her.

Daeché Demands Arraignment.
Robert Fay, a lieutenant in the German army, Walter Scholz and Paul Daeché were arraigned in a Weehawken, N. J., police court today on charges in connection with an alleged plot to blow up steamships sailing from New York with munitions for the allies. The three men were discharged by the court but were immediately arrested by federal agents on charges of conspiracy sworn to by Chief Flynn, of the secret service.

Fay and Scholz were brought to New York in custody of the federal officers. Daeché at first agreed to go to New York, but when counsel advised him that he had the right of arraignment before the nearest federal commissioner, he claimed that privilege, saying he had nothing in common with the others and did not care to go to New York without arraignment. He was then turned over to an assistant of Chief Flynn.

After the Chemical Works.

While waiting for the men to be transferred to his custody Chief Flynn said he was in possession of information which showed that Fay had told a man named Veig the proper way to stop the shipments of munitions to the allies was to blow up the chemical works. He explained that it was useless to try to blow up shell and powder works, because those plants could make repairs easily and the worst damage that could be done them would delay them only a week or so. If the chemical plants were attacked they would be at the fountain head and repairs could not be quickly made.

Fay also, the chief said, ridiculed some of the bombs found on various ships in the harbor and declared they were no good and made by amateur "joke bombs," he termed them. He said they would do no effective damage. According to the chief, Fay asserted that when he left Holland for America on the Rotterdam he carried a letter to a very high official, but on the first day out he destroyed it, fearing he might be searched and the letter found.

Chief Flynn, when asked if he considered that Captain Boy-Ed and Captain von Papen had been implicated in the

DRAGNET OUT FOR ANOTHER

Fifth Man Wanted in Conspiracy to Blow Up War
Munition Ship.

A GENERAL ALARM
FOR MAX BREITUNG

Fay Called Bombs on Ships
Joke—Urged Attack on Chemical Works.

New York, Oct. 26.—With four men already under arrest in the alleged conspiracy of German agents to blow up war munition ships sailing from American ports, federal secret service agents today searched for a fifth man, Max Breitung, who was described as secretary and treasurer of the Oilwell Supply company, of this city. It was charged by the complaint filed with a United States commissioner by W. J. Flynn, that Breitung had taken part with the others in a conspiracy to despoil the owners of a vessel of money, goods and merchandise, by blowing up the vessel.

It was specifically set forth that Breitung had a quantity of chlorate of potash found by detectives who raided the rooms of other alleged conspirators in Weehawken and Hoboken, N. J.

Dr. Herbert Kiensole, manager of a clock company, who is charged with having aided the alleged conspirators in obtaining explosives used by Fay was in the Tombs prison awaiting examination on Nov. 4.

Had Spent $30,000.

It was said that Fay, who in his confession claimed to be the head of the conspiracy, had spent $30,000 in six months on his experiments with explosives intended to wreck steamships carrying munitions to the allies.

A mass of German correspondence seized among the effects of Fay and Scholz were being translated today. It was said that other arrests may be made of men operating in Philadelphia, Baltimore and other eastern cities.

After failing to locate Breitung at either his home or office here police today sent out a general alarm for him.

GOVERNOR WILL NAME DAY FOR DEDICATION

Appropriate Exercises to Be Held at New Lincoln
School.

That Governor Samuel M. Ralston will be here for the dedication of the new Lincoln school building in Washington township, is almost a certainty for the reason that the date will be set to suit his convenience.

The date for the dedication was originally set for November 5, but it was learned that the governor would be unable to come on that day. Then it was decided to fix the date to suit the governor.

Besides the governor, Charles A. Greathouse, superintendent of public instruction in Indiana; Lee Driver, superintendent of the schools of Randolph county and one of the first to advocate the centralized school idea in Indiana, and a number of other prominent speakers will be here.

D. O. McComb, superintendent of the schools of Allen county, will go to Indianapolis, Wednesday, when he will extend the invitation to the governor to speak here.

ation State Honor.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Hundreds of delegates were here for the opening today of the annual convention of the Indiana Federation of Women's Clubs. While a number of meetings were held during the day by committees, the formal opening of the convention was not until tonight.

Probably never before in the history of the federation has there been such a spirited campaign for the office of president of the organization. There are two avowed candidates, Mrs. Clark Fairbank, of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. L. J. Cox, of Terre Haute. Both women have been leaders in the federation since it was organized.

Among the meetings today were those of the board of directors, of the credentials committee and of the council. The formal opening of the convention is set for 8 o'clock, after which will follow a reception at 10 o'clock.

Zeppelin Bomb Shock Kills Without Wound

London, Oct. 26.—(Correspondence of the American Press.)—Surgeons in English hospitals who attended victims of Zeppelin raids give remarkable facts regarding the work of bombs launched from aircraft. Apart from their explosive force, missiles dropped from a height of a mile or two gain such momentum that they do great damage by their disturbance of the air. Some of those killed have met their death from the shock of the explosion without being hit by any fragments of shell or sustaining wounds. Persons have lost legs and arms from the same cause. A large portion of those killed in the streets and a majority of the wounded

Strike-Breaker Motorman
Identifies Him as One of Assaultants.

Charles Carpenter, 461 Ruth street, a striking motorman lately in the employ of the Traction company on the city lines, was found guilty in the city court, Tuesday morning, of assault and battery on Theodore Thompson, of Indianapolis, a motorman employed as a strike-breaker here. He was fined $50 and costs and an appeal was taken to the circuit court.

It was charged that Carpenter was one of four men who forcibly took Thompson from a street car at the Crescent avenue terminal of the Lakeside line a few minutes after eleven o'clock, last Friday night, dragged them into the shade of the trees near by and were going to tie the strike-breakers to a tree, when Thompson broke away, outdistanced his pursuers, got aboard his car and ran it to the Columbia street bridge, where he reported the outrage to police officers he encountered there.

Alibi Not Held Good.

Carpenter entered a plea of not guilty, and as defense set up an alibi. Motorman Thompson was the principal witness against him and he was most positive in his identification of Carpenter as one of the four men who had attacked him and Anderson. He stated that he had the day following the attack come face to face with Carpenter in the public comfort station at the court house and at once recognized him as one of his assailants. Thompson signed an affidavit charging Carpenter with assault and battery and the strike-

Father and 5 Children Suffer Gunshot Wounds

Rockville, Ind., Oct. 26.—John Saunders, 40 years old, and his five children, ranging in age from 5 to 15 years, are suffering from bullet wounds and Samuel Ellison, a coal miner, is in jail charged with the shooting following an argument over the boundary of adjoining farm lands.

The shooting occurred late yesterday at the Saunders home, 11 miles south-east of here, when Ellison and Saunders renewed an old quarrel. Ellison is alleged to have fired one shot which took effect in Saunders' breast.

On hearing the shots the children ran into the yard and were injured by bullets fired by Ellison.

Saunders' injuries are said to be serious.

TEACHERS' MEETING CONVENES THURSDAY

No Effort Will Be Made to Secure Convention for Next Year.

Teachers of Fort Wayne and Allen county will leave Thursday morning at 8:15 o'clock on a special train over the Lake Erie and Western railroad for Indianapolis to attend the annual convention of the Indiana Teachers' association. The special will leave Indianapolis for the return trip at 6 o'clock Friday evening.

Both Superintendents J. N. Study, of the city schools, and D. O. McComb, of the county schools, received letters Tuesday announcing that President Woodrow Wilson, who was scheduled to speak Friday afternoon, will be unable to be present. The letter says:

"We have been successful, however, in securing the services of Helen Stanley, the popular American soprano, of the Chicago Opera company, to take the time assigned the president on the afternoon program of October 29. The whole afternoon's program will be devoted to a musical. There will be no address. The Indianapolis Symphony orchestra will divide the time with Miss Stanley."

Fort Wayne teachers will make no effort to secure the convention for this city next year for the reason that there is no building large enough to accommodate such a meeting. The schools of the city and county will adjourn Wednesday afternoon till Monday morning.

COMMISSION WILL NOT TAKE ACTION

It is not likely that the members of the Indiana public service commission will be asked to arbitrate the differences now pending between the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company and its former employees now out on a strike when they visit Fort Wayne late Tuesday for the purpose of changing cars. When it was reported that they were coming a report was immediately circulated that they would be asked to take action in the controversy, but was denied by both officials of the traction company and street car men.

The commission spent Tuesday in Ronoke considering the petition of citizens who have asked the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company to install warning bells at the crossings of the company's tracks on the ground that the crossings are not dangerous and that during eighteen years but one serious accident has occurred at either of the crossings.

EVERYTHING READY FOR PLOWING CONTEST

Farmers from all parts of Allen county will be in attendance Wednesday at the silver anniversary plowing contest to be held on the farm of Christ Vonderau, on the Mayville road, eight miles east of Fort Wayne, under the auspices of the Allen County Plowing contest. Liberal prizes have been offered. Prof. W. C. Latta, of the department of agriculture, Purdue university, has been selected as plowing judge, and Frank Kell, of Huntstown, as corn and potato judge.

Gillie, Charles Meyers, John H. Thrash; committee on field, Joseph Tonkel, Ernest Gallmeier, George Meyers, John A. FIGHTS TWICE WITH BANDITS

Texas Railroad President
Has Lively Encounters
With Mexicans.

FIRST ALONE, THEN
WITH MEXICAN BOY

Escapes With His Life But Brings in Marks of Bullets.

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 26.—Sam Robertson, president of the San Benito & Rio Grande Valley railroad, fought twice with Mexican bandits yesterday, the first time alone and the second time aided by a 14-year-old Mexican boy, who handled the rifles. Robertson reached San Benito today with a bullet hole through the shoulder of his coat and with the heel of one shoe shot off.

Robertson said that yesterday afternoon he was traveling east of San Benito in an automobile with a load of hardware. He lost some of the hardware and leaving the automobile near the roadside started back to find the lost articles. Returning to the automobile he discovered five Mexicans there and opened fire. They returned the fire from behind a tree. Robertson saw one man fall and after he had driven the Mexicans away found pools of blood. The wounded man had been taken away.

Robertson then set out afoot through the brush to look for a telephone recently strung on trees in that vicinity. He met a Mexican boy to whom he gave his rifle, while he kept his pump gun. Suddenly the boy turned and said: "Look out!" Robertson looked back and saw several Mexicans, how many he could not say. Robertson and the boy began firing and soon the Mexicans again retired.

Troops sent out in automobiles returned last night without finding any Mexicans. A Mexican arrested last night by rangers and county officers at Lyford was identified at the jail here today by an American who was on the train wrecked last week by bandits as the man who robbed him of money and shoes. Another Mexican was arrested at Lyford last night on information furnished by Mexicans who allege he has participated in several raids by Mexican bandits.

Four dead Mexicans, said to have been killed since the attack on American soldiers near Brownsville Sunday night, were found about six miles out of Brownsville Monday afternoon.

It is not likely that the members of the Indiana public service commission will be asked to arbitrate the differences now pending between the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company and its former employees now out on a strike when they visit Fort Wayne late Tuesday for the purpose of changing cars. When it was reported that they were coming a report was immediately circulated that they would be asked to take action in the controversy, but was denied by both officials of the traction company and street car men.

8 FIREMEN HURT IN MOTOR TRUCK CRASH

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 26.—Eight city firemen were injured, one fatally, today, when a motor truck, responding at high speed to an alarm, crashed head-on into an electric car on Central avenue.

Captain James Killora, sitting with the driver, was hurled under the wheels of the motor truck and sustained a fractured skull. He is dying.

The collision occurred when the truck turned out to avoid striking a wagon and could not turn back in time to avoid the car.

Today's War News
Given in Summary

Tentative forces have gained further ground in Serbia, Berlin announced today. Progress was made east of Vizgrad, in Bosnia, where the Austrians are engaged; an advance was scored in the Raca valley, south of Palanka and further to the east Maravatch, Lape and Kutschevo were captured.

The Bulgarians in the Strumitza region have taken the offensive against the French, but the Bulgarian attack along the whole was completely repulsed, Paris officially declares. It is denied that French forces have been repulsed on the right bank of the Vardar river.

Recapture of positions along a front of approximately 250 metres north of Lemsnie, in the Champagne, taken by the French on Sunday, is claimed in today's German official statement. The French are declared to have retained only one small trench.

Capture of a German trench to the northeast of Massiges, also in the Champagne district, is claimed by the French war office.

In the Riga-Dvinsk campaign Field Marshal von Hindenburg's forces are again making progress receding the Ilouk district. Victories for Prince Leopold's armies in the Baranovichi region and for those of Gen. von Linsingen, near Kolki and Czartorysk, on the southern end of the line, are reported.

A British news agency dispatch from Madrid brings a report that Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor, will submit soon to President Wilson and King Alfonso of Spain, an outline of the conditions upon which Germany might be disposed to discuss peace terms.

According to Paris advices, Russia has completed her preparations for the dispatch of strong forces to help Serbia.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—German advances on all fronts are reported in today's official statement. German positions over a front of 250 metres in the Champagne north of Lemsnie, which the French captured on Sunday, are said to have been re-taken. Five officers and 150 French soldiers were captured. Only one small trench northeast of Lemsnie remains in the hands of the French.

On the northern part of the Russian front Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army has again crossed the Ilouk district, and reconquered Kasimirshtki farm.

Further south the Bavarian army of Prince Leopold repulsed Russian attacks east of Baranovichi and south of Vygonoskoye lake. The army of Gen. von Linsingen has stormed the Russian position west of Czartorysk and repulsed a Russian counter attack. Four officers, 1,450 men and ten machine guns were captured.

A further advance was made yesterday by the German forces in Serbia. East of Vizgrad, Bosnia, further progress was made and several positions were occupied. South of Palanka ground was gained on the northern slope of the Raca valley. Further east the Germans captured Markovatsch, Lape and Kutschevo. During the last three days 960 Serbians have been captured.

BATTLE TIDE FLUCTUATES.

Little Gain for Either Indicated in Paris Dispatches.

Paris, Oct. 26.—Fighting has continued in the Champagne district at La Courville with fluctuations, according to the announcement made by the French war office this afternoon. The stubborn French resistance and the offensive activity of the French troops checked the counter attacks of the Germans. The text of the communication follows:

"The close fighting in the Champagne district has continued in the central position known as La Courville and the fluctuations of the tide of battle have been held to a limited area. The stubborn resistance of our troops and their immediate return to the offensive were successful in breaking the counter attacks of the enemy."

"An attack to the northeast of Massiges."

BERLIN WILL MAKE ITS DEMANDS KNOWN

Note to Wilson and Alfonso to Set Out Basis of Discussion to End War, is Report.

London, Oct. 26.—A report reached here today that Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor, will shortly submit to President Wilson and King Alfonso of Spain an outline of the conditions on which Germany might be disposed to discuss terms of peace.

The report is contained in a Reuter dispatch from Madrid and has not been corroborated from any other source. The dispatch gives as authority Prince Camperio, an Italian nobleman, who is a brother-in-law of Prince von Buelow. The report was first published in Madrid, the correspondent says, in the form of a message from Rome.

Race at Exulting Stage.
The race for the road to Constantinople has reached an exciting stage. The Bulgarians are within a few miles of forming a junction with their Austro-German allies while the French in small force already have joined the Serbians. The French are not yet in sufficient numbers to assume an actual offensive in Macedonia, but the rapidity of the Bulgarian advance in that region already has been diminished. Along the old Bulgarian frontier, from a point northeast of Vrayna to the Rumanian border, the Serbians are yielding little ground.

Actual junction between the Bulgarians and their allies, which may be a matter of only a few hours, will soon show whether the Serbians are able to hold their mountain positions until the entente allies bring up strong forces. Italy is still jamming away at the Austrian front, which is shaken but unbroken. It is expected in London that the Italian offensive will at least prevent the Austrians from reinforcing their Balkan army.

East and West.
Russia by her stubborn defense of Riga and Dvinsk and her continued offensive in Galicia is keeping her opponents engaged busily along the whole eastern front.

In the west there is evidence that the entente allies are again preparing for an offensive, which may prevent the Germans from diverting any of their forces there.

The Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant, as quoted by Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent, gives German losses from October 11 to 20 as 57,424 in dead, wounded and missing. The total Prussian losses are given as 2,021,578.

The newspaper says there have also been issued 228 Bavarian, 209 Saxon, 286 Wuertemberg and 33 naval casualty lists, as well as lists of officers and under officers with the Turkish army. The Courant figures the total losses to the central powers at 5,000,000.

PARCEL POST TO U. S. HALTED BY GERMANY

Berlin, Oct. 25.—(Via London Oct. 26.)—The parcel post service to America has been discontinued until further notice. No official reason for the discontinuance is given.

Last April several thousand post packages mailed from Germany to the United States via Switzerland, were returned to the senders by the Swiss postal authorities because the British and French governments had given notification that parcels addressed to German citizens in the United States would be seized whenever they were found on shipboard. Parcels sent from Germany to Spain and Portugal have not a similar fate in France. On April 7 the German postal officials suspended the parcel post service to various parts of South America.

LATHROP TO SPEAK TO REAL ESTATE MEN

John Lathrop, of New York, representative of the city planning exhibition now being carried on in St. Louis, will be the principal speaker Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the regular weekly meeting of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange at the Commercial club. Col. D. N. Foster, who witnessed the exhibition in New York, will also be present and speak.

Word has been received by officials of the exchange from John Nolen, of Cambridge, Mass., regarded as one of the country's greatest city planning experts, that he will be in Fort Wayne in the near future on his way to Sacramento, Cal. During his short visit here he will speak to the members of the real estate exchange.

OPENS PLEA SOON AFTER BREAKFAST

Lancaster, O., Oct. 26.—Former Secretary of State William J. Bryan began the second day of his campaign for state wide prohibition in Ohio here this morning with a speech delivered shortly after he had finished his breakfast.

As in his speeches of yesterday, Mr. Bryan refrained from discussing politics not involving the liquor question. Though the proposed prohibition amendment which will be submitted to Ohio voters in the election of Nov. 2 was the speaker's chief topic, he attacked the so-called constitutional stability proposal which would prevent for six years a vote on a bill that had been twice defeated.

MISS OWEN AGAIN CHAMPION.

New York, Oct. 26.—Miss Margaret E. Owen, of New York, has again won the world's championship as a typewriter operator and the $1,000 trophy which goes with the title. In a contest here yesterday Miss Owen maintained for an hour an average of 136 words a minute. Her previous record was 132 words a minute. William F. Oswald, of New York, won the amateur half hour contest with an average of 137 words a minute. Miss Horace Stollnitz won in the novice class by writing an average of 114 words for fifteen minutes.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.

First Woman of Indian Descent Given Entree to Supreme Court.
Washington, Oct. 26.—Miss Lydia B. Conley, of Kansas City, Mo., is the first woman of Indian descent to be admitted to practice law before the supreme court. Her admission was moved by Solicitor General Davis.
Several years ago Miss Conley attracted attention by resisting an attempt to remove the bodies of her ancestors from an Indian burial ground in Kansas City. She carried the litigation to the supreme court and there argued her own case, losing it, however. Her appearance in her own case was with special permission of the court.

CAR IS STONED ON CENTLIVRE LINE

Two Cars Are Damaged in Accident Tuesday Morning.

Another car was attacked by vandals Monday night, this time on the Centlivre short line when several stones were thrown from the darkness, breaking window glass but doing no other damage. There were no passengers on the car at the time.

A car on the East Creighton avenue line smashed into a pay-as-you-enter car at Brackenridge street at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, badly damaging both cars. No one was hurt.

Conductor Joseph Gross and Motor-man George York, who are on the East Creighton avenue line, have issued a statement denying that they have quit the services of the company and that they have no intention of doing so.

Will Form Stock Company.

The organization of a $100,000 stock company, with shares of stock at $10 each, to be paid $2 down and the remaining $8 in four monthly installments for the establishment of an auto bus system, was recommended by the finance committee at the regular meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor Monday evening. The committee was authorized to act and decide on the cars it saw fit to purchase.

According to the report of Treasurer J. C. Werkan, who also is treasurer of the car men's fund, $4,435.32 has been paid in and $4,119.53 paid out in benefits to the car men since the strike started, leaving a balance of $315.80.

A meeting of the jitney "bus drivers' union was held Monday evening and a member was assessed $1 for the benefit of the car men. An assessment of twenty-five cents a week was also levied on each member to be paid weekly for the benefit of the car men during the strike. Twenty new members were added to the jitney union Monday night, swelling the membership to about 100.

PROBE FIRE IN WHICH 12 GIRLS LOST LIVES

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 26.—Investigations started last night by city and county officials into the box factory fire yesterday that took the lives of 12 girl employees and one man and caused serious injuries to eight other persons, were resumed today. Mayor J. G. Armstrong announced that a sweeping probe of all the circumstances would be made.

At the hospital today it was stated that the death of Gertrude Neft, one of the factory girls who jumped from the third story to the sidewalk, was hourly expected. She sustained many broken bones and severe injuries to her head. George H. Woods, who also jumped, was another victim said to be in a critical condition. Both legs were broken and physicians feared he sustained internal injuries. The remainder of the injured were reported in a satisfactory condition although it will be weeks before some of them are able to leave the hospital.

The flames started in a pile of straw in the rear of the feed store of James Brown & Co., on the first floor of the building. William C. Kimbel, general manager of the box factory company, went at once to the third and fourth floors and warned the girls employed there to leave quietly. The flames gained headway so rapidly, however, that escape by means of stairways and fire escapes was soon cut off. Some of the girls attempted to go to the dressing room for their hats and, there, huddled on the floor, firemen found a majority of the bodies.

Joseph L. Bash, 24 years old, and A. J. Seagle, employed on the second floor of the building, were about to jump when they were attracted by the screams of girls in the windows above. The men told the girls to jump. One by one as the girls leaped, Bash and Seagle caught them, lowered them as far as they could and then let them drop to the sidewalk.

C. B. Carls, driver of a transfer wagon, drove his wagon into an alley in the rear of the building and threw up a rope to girls in a window above. After making one end fast, they slid down the rope to safety.

Trapped Behind Door.
Margaret Steigerwald, 17 years old, who was injured by jumping from a third-floor window, said she and five other girls were trapped in the building when somebody closed a door at the head of the stairway on the second floor.

"We got our wraps and started down the stairway," said Miss Steigerwald. "As we reached the second floor some person closed the door at the head of the stairway and we were trapped. We tried to open the door without success and then we started back to the third floor. By that time the third floor was filled with smoke. We made for the windows. One girl pushed me away from a window and I was the last to jump."

WAR IS AFFLICTING HOLY FATHER DEEPLY

Pope Benedict in Interview Tells of Suffering Over Conflict.

Rome, Oct. 25.—Via Paris, Oct. 26.—Pope Benedict, in an interview published in the Avvenire d'Italia, expressed his deep affliction by the tragic events ravaging Europe and his suffering at being obliged to look powerless upon such a spectacle, but in his father's heart, which cherished alike all his children, the pope said he thought only of the day when the rulers of warring peoples shall understand the necessity and duty of ending the carnage, which is overthrowing all human and divine laws.

The holy father abstained, he said, from passing judgments, which have no practical result, but would, on the contrary, cause fresh recriminations and sow fresh disorders. He deplored the violence and barbarities practiced in a war wherein the conquests of science were placed at the service of murder.

In conclusion the pope declared that his appeal for peace having been unheard, he would continue the charitable work for the benefit of the wounded.

CONVICTED, BUT WILL BE FREE IN 90 DAYS

Como, Italy, Oct. 26.—Porter Charlton, of New York, son of Judge Charlton, of the United States court in Porto Rico, was found guilty yesterday of the murder of his actress wife while on their honeymoon here in 1910.

The court sentenced the prisoner to six years and eight months' imprisonment, but allowed the time he has already been in prison, both here and in the United States, to be deducted from the sentence. Also, one year's amnesty, granted by royal decree to all prisoners when Italy entered the war, was allowed to apply in Charlton's case. As a result he will be free in less than three months.

Victory for American.

While technically convicted, the verdict is a remarkable victory for the young American and his counsel. Public sympathy was so strongly with him because of revelations regarding his unhappy married life and the difference in the ages of the couple—he was 20 and his bride, a divorcee of more than 40—that it was freely predicted during the trial that while the law would be upheld, some way would be found to free the young American in deference to public opinion.

URGES ELIMINATION OF THE BONEHEADS

Dr. Frederick W. Hamilton, of Boston, national apprentice department director of the United Typothetae and Franklin clubs, and Dr. W. F. Book, director of the vocational work in the public schools of Indiana, were the principal speakers, Monday evening, at a meeting held under the auspices of the Master Printers in the assembly room of the court house.

During the course of his address Dr. Hamilton said: "Every master printer knows that there are too many boneheads working at the trade and that is why our organization is co-operating with the Typographical union to get into the business a higher type of young men as apprentices."

Dr. Book told briefly what is being done along vocational educational lines in Indiana.

EXTEND VOTE OF THANKS.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Woman's Relief corps Monday evening at the meeting of Sarah C. On Thursday afternoon a pedro party will be given in Vespermark hall and Monday evening, Nov. 8, cards will be the attraction following the regular meeting of the tent.

3 DIE IN CRASH AT GAS CITY CROSSING

Watchman's Effort to Halt Speeding Auto Fails and Engine Strikes.

Gas City, Ind., Oct. 26.—Flick McIlwain, a wealthy farmer of Pleasant township, and Mrs. Odie Allen and Mrs. Alice Wilson, both of Marion, were killed late yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad switch engine at the Main street crossing here.

Noah Bodkin, who was driving the machine, leaped from his seat when he saw the collision was unavoidable and escaped with minor injuries.

The watchman at the crossing made frantic efforts to halt the automobile, but Bodkin's attention seemed to be attracted elsewhere until his car was upon the track.

Mrs. Allen was riding in the front seat. Her head was torn off and her body was badly mutilated. McIlwain's neck was broken and his left thigh and leg were crushed. Mrs. Wilson's left leg was crushed and she was injured internally. The automobile belonged to McIlwain.

The presence of the party in Gas City was not explained. Charles Bankson, the crossing watchman, asserted he believed the party was on a "joy ride."

DAUGHTER IS BRIDE AT GOLDEN WEDDING

Miss Frances Wybourn Springs Surprise on Parents' Guests at Andrews Celebration.

Andrews, Ind., Oct. 26.—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Wybourn, who live on Market street, in Andrews, was celebrated Sunday. The house was lavishly decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns. Just at high noon the bride and groom of fifty years ago were led into the parlor by Henry K. Dean, a friend of the family and their charming and accomplished daughter, Miss Frances, where Rev. J. E. Knotts, of the Christian church, was waiting to ostensibly perform the marriage ceremony for the aged couple, but instead of them being the ones, Mr. Dean and Miss Wybourn stepped out and were soon united in marriage. This was a surprise to almost the entire company.

The bride is the only single daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wybourn, who live here, but she herself has been a resident of Grand Rapids, Mich., for a number of years.

The groom has been a resident of Grand Rapids for upwards of thirty-five years. Twenty-eight years ago he organized the Dean-Hicks Printing Co. and for twenty-five years was its president and manager. He is also largely interested in the Periodical Publishing Co., of that city, publishers of "The Furniture Record," the national furniture magazine. Two years ago he resigned from active participation in the work of these two companies and has since employed his time in looking after his mining interests in Colorado. Mr. Dean, until within the past few years, has been active in Masonic work, being past eminent commander of DeMolai commandery, No. 5, of his city and a life member of that body; he is also a life member of Saladin temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason.

Those present besides the immediate family were: Mr. and Mrs. Drake and daughter; Mrs. R. J. Erickson and two daughters; also the son and daughter of the groom, all of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Ira W. Wybourn, of Milwaukee, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Johns and daughter, Marie; Mrs. T. P. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Craig, all of Van Wert, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Knotts, of Andrews. The newly married couple received the heartiest congratulations of all those present, although it was a surprise put over them by the interested parties.

An elaborate dinner was served to the twenty-five or more guests. Besides the other presents a purse of $63 in gold was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Wybourn in memory of their anniversary.

FARM DOG BITES HIRED MAN.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 26.—Philip Mole, a laborer employed at the Samuel Krill farm, east of the city, was the victim of a vicious attack by a dog that may leave him disfigured for life. The dog is one kept at the Krill farm, is a large Shepherd and always of kind disposition and no one supposed that he would attack anyone. Mole was playing with the animal, and it is thought the dog became tired of the sport and ill-natured. At any rate, he sprang at his victim, seizing him in the face with his sharp teeth and tearing great gashes in his face. Immediately following the attack Mole was brought to the city and taken to a physician's office where two doctors dressed his injuries. It was necessary to use a number of stitches in closing up the wounds.

WELLS COUNTY PIONEER DIES.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 26.—Joseph W. Park, a pioneer settler of Rockcreek township, and for twenty-eight years past a resident of Murray, passed away at the home of his nephew, Tris M. Perkins, in Murray. Mr. Park was born in Letterkenny, County Donegal, Ireland, April 21, 1847, the son of Matthew and Margaret (Buchanan) Park. His father came to America in 1861. After working here two years he returned to Ireland and brought his family back to America in 1853. After being employed about a year in Philadelphia Matthew Park took his wife and children westward and came to Indiana, settling in Rockcreek township, about sixty years ago. The family were among the pioneers of that section.

A Lesson from the Past

Years ago, before baking powders were so well known, the housewife sometimes made her own from cream of tartar and soda.

These materials were then comparatively expensive and processes of refining had not been devised to bring them to the high state of purity of the present-day well known cream of tartar baking powders, such as Royal; and yet she never thought of buying alum, then as now a cheap and inferior substitute for cream of tartar. She wouldn't think of permitting an ounce of alum to enter her kitchen.

Yet housekeepers are to-day asked to buy alum baking powders with which to make food for their children.

The statement on the label affixed to every can naming the ingredients of which the baking powder is composed affords a method of protection against the use of undesirable kinds.

The franchise expires soon and the local company contemplates securing a franchise from the city.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 26.—While picking a bunch of bananas from a nearby empty stalk Monday, Frank Thomas, a grocer, saw curled up in a comfortable position a bunch of the fruit something that made him run to the telephone and send a S. 98,710 BABIES BORN IN OHIO LAST YEAR

March the Banner Month While December Record Was Lowest.

Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—Thirty-one children who were the fifteenth in the family, were born in Ohio in 1914; eight were the sixteenth children; four were the 17th; one the 18th, and one the 19th. Of the 98,710 children born during the year, 2,157 were twins, 43 triplets, and 1,885 illegitimates. March was the banner month for number of births, and December showed the lowest record.

These facts are shown by a supplementary report made public by Dr. Morton W. Bland, chief register of vital statistics. of birth rates for the last six years shows that Summit county has held the record for three years, including 1914, while Lake county has been lowest during three of those six years. Dr. Bland accounts for Summit county's record by citing the large number of foreigners there, with large families. The city of Painesville, in Lake county, has had an abnormally large birth rate for a number of years, he says.

The number of first children born in a family was 30,769; second, 21,822; third, 15,015; fourth, 10,283; fifth, 7,082; sixth, 4,937; seventh, 3,283; eighth, 2,226; ninth, 1,292; tenth, 863; eleventh, 458; twelfth, 242; thirteenth, 137; fourteenth, 66.

Births by months were: January, 8,514; February, 8,163; March, 9,143; April, 7,797; May, 8,150; June, 8,118; July, 8,640; August, 8,761; September, 8,573; October, 8,323; November, 7,906; December, 6,921.

Exodus 23:14-25.

14 Three times thou shalt keep a feast unto me in the year.
15 Thou shalt keep the feast of unleavened bread; (thou shalt eat unleavened bread seven days, as I commanded thee, in the time appointed of the month Abib; for in it thou camest out from Egypt; and none shall appear before me empty;)

16 And the feast of harvest, the firstfruits of thy labours, which thou hast sown in the field; and the feast of ingathering, which is in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labours out of the field.
17 Three times in the year all thy males shall appear before the Lord God.

18 Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread; neither shall the fat of my sacrifice remain until the morning.

19 The first of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not see the kid in his mother's milk.

20 Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared.

21 Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions; for my name is in him.

22 But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an adversary unto thine adversaries.

23 For mine Angel shall go before thee, and bring thee in unto the Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites; and I will cut them off.

24 Thou shalt not bow down to their gods, nor serve them, nor do after their works; but thou shalt utterly overthrow them, and quite break down their images.

25 And ye shall serve the Lord your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee.

Clean Public Amusements.

Goshen is rather proud—and justifiably, too—of the fact that he has just demonstrated that it is possible to conduct a fall festival and do it successfully on a clean, wholesome basis. It extended over three days, with the streets of the city thronged each afternoon and evening with merry throngs engaged in innocent enjoyment, the event culminating in a Halloween parade and demonstration that was ample in noise, in color, and in enthusiasm, but without untoward incident to mar the record of the week.

The notable feature of Goshen's undertaking was the fact that it was accomplished without a saloon on the job, without a "wide open" town and without rowdiness. Three arrests for drunkenness constituted the sum-total of law-infractions that came to the surface during the three days of merry-making. Moreover, there was not a gambling device of any sort in operation, not an immoral show and not a questionable attraction of any sort in evidence. Goshen, too, is a fairly good-sized town. It was called upon, doubtless, to meet the contention in some quarters that for an occasion of this kind there should be a temporary tilting of the "lid," that for three days there might well be some license given for indulgence not permitted at other times, and that in honor of the occasion and to guarantee its financial success there should be special dispensation that would permit the application of a bit of red paint to the town by those whose inclinations lead in that direction.

But Goshen stood resolutely against all that sort of thing, and, refusing to pander to depraved tastes, or to tolerate outlaws or indecency even on a carnival occasion, supplied clean, wholesome amusement to many thousands of people. One man whose ideas of the fitness of things permitted him to appear carrying a banner advertising a saloon in an adjoining town was even taken from the streets and given some timely and effective admonition on the impropriety of his conduct. Goshen's fall festival is said to have been clean throughout, and the city's business men who were behind the enterprise may well be gratified at its success. More than that, they have set a valuable example to other cities.

Residents of the Fifth and Sixth wards in large numbers are said to be signing remonstrances against the proposed location of an auxiliary city garbage crematory at the end of Huestis avenue, pleading that another location be chosen for the plant. It must be admitted that the prospect of a garbage incinerator in the immediate vicinity of any residential section is not an inviting one, and in view of the prevailing southwest winds the Huestis avenue location is one that is very apt to make the crematory obnoxious to a very large section of the city. Any possible inside location for such a plant is undesirable. It should be placed, despite the longer haul, at some remote point that will remove as far as possible the chances of giving offense.

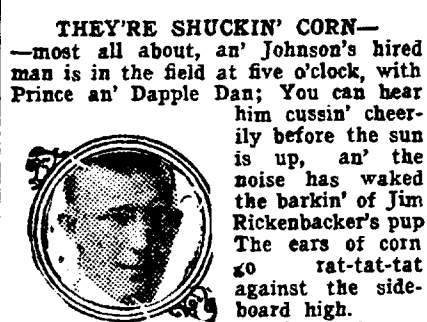

Howling objections are being poured into the census bureau at Washington following the recent publication of the mid-census estimates on population by a number of Indiana cities which are moral certain the bureau has placed their figures much too low. Muncie, for instance, says no account was taken of some 8,000 to 10,000 people who reside just outside the corporate limits of that city. What Evansville thinks of the estimate that crowded her out of second place in Indiana and gave the rank to Fort Wayne, is altogether improper for publication in any well-regulated family newspaper.

Possibly because his famous Ananias club is now so crowded that there is room for no more members, Colonel Roosevelt has started a new organization of the Not-a-Good-Citizen, and he puts Henry Ford at the head of the list because the automobile man has declared for peace and no armament. When the colonel finally gets all the rest of the people sorted out he's going to find himself in rather stately loneliness as the only real thing in perfect American citizenship.

Despite the war problems, the program for national defense and the preparations for his wedding, it is to be noted that President Wilson will in a few days begin work on the preparation for his annual message to congress. Occasionally one find himself wondering how that man manages to put in the remainder of his time.

But after all, your real optimist is the automobile man. Every manufacturer is apparently already on record with the prediction that his particular car is going to beat 'em all on both sales and performance next year.

INDIANA'S RURAL SCHOOLS.

(Indianapolis News).

At the Mississippi valley tuberculosis conference, which was held recently in this city, some astounding charges against rural schools were made by a Chicago investigator. This man said that, generally speaking, country schoolhouses were more insanitary than the poorest buildings in great cities. He offered figures which apparently showed that the country child had less opportunity to be healthy than the child of the slum. It is instructive to recall these remarks in connection with a dispatch from Winchester, Ind., which told of a visit made by Calvin N. Kendall, New Jersey state commissioner of education, to certain consolidated rural schools in Randolph county. Some time ago Mr. Kendall asked government authorities for information concerning "the best rural schools in the country," and was referred to the school of Randolph county. "I was never more surprised in my life," Mr. Kendall is reported to have said, after visiting the schools of Randolph county. "When I return to Trenton I am going to write several of my county superintendents and ask them to visit the schools here."

The existence of these model institutions in Randolph county was unknown to many people prior to the visit of Mr. Kendall, who was formerly superintendent of schools in Indianapolis. He has not been absent from this county for many years, and while here he was conversant with the state's educational affairs generally. As he was amazed at being referred back to his own state for model rural schools it is reasonable to suppose that Randolph county's improvement has been attained within a comparatively short time. This supports the main contention in defense of rural schools as they are being built and conducted today. The old type of isolated "district" school is disappearing. The day when impoverished, ignorant or neglectful townships are expected to create and maintain the best sort of educational plant is passing. In Randolph county, consolidation has enabled the county superintendent, Mr. Driver, to gain first place among all country school districts.

Randolph county is in the east-central part of the state. It has no large cities. Winchester, the seat, having a population of perhaps 5,000 or more. This shows what other counties may do. Last year, Mr. Neal, state high school inspector, accompanied by a number of instructors, visited Randolph county. He said at that time that he regarded the consolidated school system of Randolph county as the most remarkable, the most efficient in the state. Liberty, co-operation and sustained interest are said to be responsible for Randolph's superior position.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your crown. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns grays, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.—Advertisement.

Summer's hot an' winter's stormy; in the spring there's too much rain, but the autumn brings the harvest, silver frost an' golden grain. Leaves are fallin' from the maples and the cottonwoods at last, to protect dead things of summer from the cruel winter's blast; but the golden seed of harvest that the boys are bringin' in, promises a resurrection when the springtime comes again!—Charles B. COFFEE CLAIMS ITS VICTIMS BY HUNDREDS

Prominent Nerve Specialist Says Coffee Drinking Has Produced a New Disease—Chronic Caffeinism.

"There is a distinct type of cases," says Dr. Wm. M. Leszynsky, consulting neurologist to the Manhattan Eye and Ear hospital, "frequent among the poorer classes of people, but by no means confined to them, of functional nervous disorder (caused by coffee drinking), to which the elastic term 'neurasthenia' or 'chronic caffeinism' in its broadest significance may be aptly applied."

"In cases of neurasthenia, inquire into coffee drinking," adds Dr. Otto Juettner. "I have seen hundreds of victims of this disease," continues Dr. Leszynsky, "among commercial travelers, brokers, merchants, actors, writers and men connected with the news department of the daily papers."

"They usually complain of the following symptoms, which are more or less pronounced: General headache and nervousness, apprehension in regard to some unknown impending trouble, mental depression and irritability, insomnia or restless sleep, bad dreams and sudden starting in sleep, awakening in profuse perspiration, general tremulousness and diminished muscular power, cardiac palpitations, loss of appetite, and constipation."

NOTE.—It is a fact worthy of note that the American food-drink—Instant Postum—has come widely into popular use and favor with the recognition of the harmfulness of coffee. Postum has a flavor resembling Old Java, but is entirely free from caffeine or any other harmful ingredient.—Advertisement.

INDOOR LIFE MAKES FAT

TAKE OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any person who is satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout should go to a good druggist and get a box of oil of korein capsules and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight. Digestion should improve, energy return, footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, helps the digestion and is designed to increase the oxygen-carrying power of the blood. Any person who wants to reduce their weight 15 or 20 pounds should give this treatment a trial. There is nothing better.

PLAN TO GO THROUGH CONGRESS WITH WHOOP

Talk of Caucus on War Preparedness Recalls Story by Murdock.

By Gilson Gardner.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The war preparedness program will go through congress with a whoop. Now that the administration is for it, everybody is for it. Talk of a caucus to push the program through recalls Victor Murdock's story of the Irishman who undertook for $50 to go out into the pasture and bring in the bad bull which had long terrorized the community. His instructions were to bring the bull in dead or alive. After a brief meeting with the bull, Pat was seen coming toward the road at a breakneck pace with the bull close on his heels. He had dropped the rope and thrown away his gun, but as he drew near he called out in triumphant tones: "Open the gate; I'm bringing him in alive!"

The administration will have just as little trouble bringing in the republican and progressive support for its big army and navy bills.

The "continental army" plan announced by the white house is not favored by the regular army. It is not the plan worked out by the military colleges and it was not the original recommendation of Secretary Garrison. What the regular army officers recommend is a regular army of about 250,000 men.

000 men with a complement of field artillery and with stations so arranged that this force could be easily mobilized. It is figured that a force of this strength if made up of competent seasoned soldiers, would be sufficient to check an attempted invasion. The war authorities say that no hostile nation could land more than a hundred thousand troops at a time on our shores and that this force of 250,000 men could be mobilized and concentrated to meet such an attack and to check the invasion for such time as might be required to get the citizen-soldiers mustered and give them three months' training, by which time they could be used to supplement the regular army force.

The objection urged to the continental army plan is that it does not meet the need of a competent force which could be quickly mobilized. The federal militia which is planned would be called for a second line defense, but could not be mustered quickly to meet an emergency, say the experts.

An effort will be made in congress to urge the advantages of some modification of the Swiss system, which would certainly be superior to the continental army plan, which has most of the disadvantages of the present militia system and is no particular improvement over it, except in the one respect that the men are under federal authority and can be concentrated and mobilized under federal auspices.

It would not be terribly surprising if the coming session of congress saw the passage of the prohibition constitutional amendment. Those who have been following this matter closely find that the liquor interests are rather disposed to withdraw from this field of battle, falling back on the second line of entrenchments—the state legislatures. If congress passes the proposal for a federal amendment the matter is merely referred back to the states and it will require ratification by three-fourths of the state legislatures before the amendment would be added to the constitution. The liquor interests feel confident that they are quite strong enough in the legislature to prevent this and they could concentrate the expenditure of their campaign-fund money which is now used to influence congress. The liquor interests have been losing strength in congress since the roll call, taken last winter. A number of southern congressmen who thought they could vote against the amendment on the states' right pretext have heard from their constituents in such unmistakable terms that they have announced conversion to the prohibition amendment.

Three months have made almost a revolutionary change in labor conditions in the United States. In the middle of summer, industry has just begun to recover from the unemployment slump to the previous winter and fall of 1914. Now, however, indications point to a general scarcity of labor during the coming autumn and winter, in sharp contrast to the stagnation and unemployment of last fall, according to statistical and other compilations published for October by The Labor Gazette. "Unemployment has reached probably the lowest point since 1907," says the Gazette. "The demand for labor has so far been easily satisfied except in a few trades connected with the manufacture of munitions and in the harvesting of enormous crops, but there are already fears being expressed by employers that a general labor scarcity will occur. With but very few exceptions, the demand for all kinds of labor has increased, while the shutting off of immigration has cut off a large source of the supply."

A monthly review of the labor market and labor and industrial conditions will, it is understood, be a regular and important feature of The Labor Gazette, which is to be issued once a month by the bureau of applied economics in Washington.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

GERMAN PLAY THIS EVENING.

The German-American citizens of Ft. Wayne will be given a rare treat to-night. The German Theatre of New York, which has been largely increased in its personnel owing to the war part of its ensemble on a tour through the United States under the business management of Rudolf Bach and the art direction of Gustav Olmar. Both gentlemen will be remembered here as having been members of the Oberammergau theatrical troupe, which played here last year; especially Gus. Olmar, who became a great favorite among the German-Americans; and he justly deserves this attention on the part of the public. In every part he has created, he has done his best, and he has thereby furnished many a delightful hour to his large audiences. He is ably supported by a company of first-class artists, for the most part but recently arrived here. The play to be given, "Our Hussars," has all the requisites of a good drama. The plot is free of all objectionable features; the songs are of the best, the dancing is of a nature to please everybody, and the jokes are real wit on decent lines.

THE ONLY GIRL THE ATTRACTION

AT THE MAJESTIC TOMORROW

Coming to the Majestic tomorrow afternoon and evening, will be that dainty musical comedy success, "The Only Girl," which comes here direct from a year's run at the Lyric theatre, New York, where it was conceded to be the greatest musical comedy hit of the past few years in the big metropolis. It is the work of Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom. The production is under the management of its original producer, Joe Weber, who has kept the cast, chorus and orchestra intact since it was seen in New York. Among the many engaging numbers contained in the brilliant score that Victor Herbert has composed for the musical comedy success, "The Only Girl" and which already has found great popularity, are "The More I See of Others, Dear, the Better I Love You," "When You're Away," "Personality," "Whimsy," "Tell It All Over Again," "You Have to Have a Part to Make a Hit," "When Your Ankle Wears the Ball and Chain," "Equal Rights," and "You're the Only One for Me."

MARIE TEMPEST AT THE MAJESTIC FRIDAY

A note of much interest to the feminine portion of Miss Marie Tempest's audiences is the promise that in her present double bill, "The Duke of Killcrankie" and Barrie's "Rosindol," in which she is to be seen at the Majestic theatre, on Friday evening, October 29th, the English actress wears a bewildering assortment of frocks, quite sustaining the reputation she has long had of being one of the best gowned women on the London stage. The costumes in her present program vary from some elaborate gowns to a series of extremely beautiful street suits and furs.

SEAT SALE TOMORROW

FOR "TWIN BEDS."

Local theatre-goers will have an opportunity to see "Twin Beds," the laugh festival by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo, to which New York paid the tribute of a fifty-two weeks run, in its best possible interpretation, when Selwyn and Company present this wholesome rickety farce at the Majestic on Saturday matinee and night, with an exceptionally able cast of comedians. "Twin Beds" tells the story of three couples who live in a fashionable big apartment house, with apartments directly above each other, who begin by being merely neighbors, and by loathing the neighborliness they cannot escape, and finally move to another part of town, only to discover that their troubles are trailing them with a Burns-like persistency.

AT THE TEMPLE.

SENIOR FITZHUGH.

It's bad enough to be a Mexican and be forced to admit it, but when Benjamin Fitzhugh pretends to have been in Mexico when in reality he has been in jail, and then has to live up to his representations, he gets himself into deep water and his floundering keeps everyone but himself in roaring laughter. Fitzhugh is at the Temple this week in "The Man From Mexico," presented by the Temple players, and a funnier farce has never been presented by that able company. The story is that of a young New Yorker who gets into trouble and is sent to Blackwell's Island. His friends invent for him the story that he has gone to Mexico and his wife believes it. While he is in jail she visits the institution, but does not recognize him, and when he comes home he has more trouble cut out for himself. He comes home calling himself "Senor" and goes about clicking a pair of castanets, doing everything the storybook "Don" do, and which the real Mexicans never think of doing. The farce is far funnier than "Hello Bill" and the Tempe audience Monday evening and this afternoon enjoyed every minute of the excellent offering.

AT KEITH PALACE

ROBBIE GORDONE.

In her classic reproductions of famous statues and masterpieces in porcelain and ivory, Miss Robbie Gordone heads the new Palace bill for the week. She has nine beautiful poses and changes from one to another with but a few seconds' intermission. The act is one of unsurpassed beauty, for Miss Gordone is not only one of the most beautiful women on the vaudeville stage, but the very statues she imitates are beautiful. She challenges any woman in the world to make the same number of positions in as many minutes.

Hoey & Lee are Hebrew comedians whose work has made them general Keith favorites. They not only have an unbounded lot of comedy but they have a line of new songs well sung. Who is Milo? Is he a she or is she a he? These and many other questions will be asked many times at the Palace this week, where Milo is a star attraction. Milo's act is a guaranteed entertainer and besides gives the audience something to guess about.

Miss Virginia Olds is an added attraction at the Palace this week. She will give three dances, "The Witch Doctor," "The Rainbow" and a Japanese ceremonial dance. Miss Olds' act is a valued addition to the bill, as her dancing has attracted attention among the leading theatrical managers.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

BUSHMAN STARS AT ORPHEUM.

Even if the votes in the mammoth magazine contest a few months ago had not so adjudged him, few would gainsay the statement that Francis X. Bushman is the most popular star in the world of the silent drama, and in "The Silver Voice," his latest effort on the screen, he more than lives up to his great reputation. While Mr. Bushman fills a role rather different from that in which his admirers have usually seen him—that of a romantic lover—the opportunities which his part give him allow wide range for his distinctive dramatic talents. He portrays a character that from the very beginning wins the hearts of the spectators by his devotion to a mother afflicted with deafness, and later obtains their sympathies when he becomes similarly afflicted. Mr. Bushman is supported by a notable cast of artists, headed by Marguerite Snow, the piquant film star and Frank Bacon, the distinguished legitimate character actor, who here makes his debut on the screen.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Blanche Sweet at Jefferson.

The thousands of Blanche Sweet's admirers will see their favorite in a difficult dual role at the Jefferson today in "The Secret Sin," a late Paramount picture shown along with Dorrey travels and Pathe News.

"The Secret Sin" tells the story of Edith and Grace Martin—twin sisters and the daughters of Dan Martin, a poor man out of work. While the father is out prospecting for oil with a young man, Jack Herron, the two girls and their mother keep the home going by sewing for a manufacturer of cheap garments. Grace is the sickly sister and while out in the street, resting, a drug fiend induces her to go around the corner from her home into Chinatown and purchase some opium. Grace gets her first taste of the drug and later, when an ignorant doctor gives her morphine to deaden pain, she becomes a secret drug fiend.

The father discovers oil for Herron and the family becomes wealthy. Herron meets the two sisters and falls in love with Edith. This arouses Grace's jealousy. Edith discovers that Grace uses morphine and takes it from her. Grace tells Herron that Edith takes the drug, and so plans it that Herron discovers Edith with morphine in her possession, but his love for her does not change.

The place where Grace has been getting the drug is closed and she suggests to Herron that Edith will probably go to Chinatown after more. The three go to Chinatown for a dinner and Grace slips away to purchase opium and goes to a real opium den. Edith follows her but enters a fake den, is arrested and taken to jail. Herron goes on her bail. In the meantime Grace is taken out of the real den, robbed and left in the street, but is found by Jack and Edith returning to search for her. Jack discovers that Grace is the real drug victim, and his role rather different from that in which his admirers have usually seen him—that of a romantic lover—the opportunities which his part give him allow wide range for his distinctive dramatic talents. He portrays a character that from the very beginning wins the hearts of the spectators by his devotion to a mother afflicted with deafness, and later obtains their sympathies when he becomes similarly afflicted. Mr. Bushman is supported by a notable cast of artists, headed by Marguerite Snow, the piquant film star and Frank Bacon, the distinguished legitimate character actor, who here makes his debut on the screen.

WANTS DEFENDANT
MADE A RECEIVER

Fort Wayne Provision Co.
Sues Charles Hoy and
Charles Clark.

It is not usual in suits for a receiver-ship to ask that the defendant be made receiver, but that is one of the petitions in a suit filed in the superior court by the Fort Wayne Provision company against Charles Hoy and Charles Clark. The complaint alleges that Hoy owes the plaintiff $100 and that when Hoy some time ago sold the Enterprise restaurant, 611 Calhoun street, to Clark, the law relating to bulk sales was violated and that the transfer therefore is invalid and void because the plaintiff was not notified that it might protect its interests. Hoy at the time being alleged to owe the plaintiff. The court is asked to appoint Clark receiver for the property and held accountable to the plaintiff and other creditors. The bequests made by the testator are to be paid from his estate's other assets so far as the same may be sufficient, the division to be made pro rata. Mr. Simonson, who had been the decedent's business partner since 1877, is named executor.

Was Raw When She Did Speak.
John L. Smyers has sued Vernie V. Smyers in the superior court for divorce and he says that she would refuse to speak to or converse with him for days at a time and when she did deign to exchange words would nag, scold and criticize him and make insulting and disgusting remarks about his family. He charges also that she falsely accused him of associating with other women. They were married in September, 1913, and separated October 26, 1915. W. C. Geake is his attorney.

Monument Commission to Take Time to Select Sculptor.

The Anthony Wayne Monument commission will not act in haste in making choice of a sculptor to furnish a model for the monument that is to be erected as a memorial to the founder of Fort Wayne. It will be a matter of perhaps three months before the commission reaches that stage of its labors. The first question to be determined is whether competition shall be widened and other sculptors invited to submit models, or choice made from the work of the three sculptors who already have models here. The commission may invite an expert to advise with them and assist in choosing a model without knowing whose work is being selected. A meeting will be held next week to discuss the first step of the program. Published statements that at a meeting to be held next Tuesday the commissioners will award a contract for designing and superintending construction of the monument are entirely without foundation. The commission will do nothing of the sort next Tuesday.

AGREEMENT IS RENEWED.

The Pennsylvania railroad has renewed with the board of works its agreement that the railroad will not construct tracks or buildings across Clinton street, the new period being effective for four years from this time. This puts the question of opening Clinton street across the Pennsylvania and Wabash tracks in abeyance for that term.

SOME DOUBT ABOUT IT.

Government May Fail to Make Out Case Against Accused Men.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Officials of the department of justice expressed doubt today whether the federal government can make out a case against the men implicated in the plot to blow up munitions ships sailing from the United States. Detailed information as to what evidence has been collected by the New York police or the secret service was still lacking today and the department will not reach a decision in the matter until all data has been examined. The bureau of investigation has been interested in the case only indirectly, but Chief A. B. Bielasky said today that he does not expect to take any active part in the investigation.

FT. WAYNE MEN
SIGN THE CALL

Rev. E. S. Shumaker, state superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league. Nonpartisan Movement.

The campaign, which is to be waged on a scale never before attempted in this state, is described as a nonpartisan movement. Representatives of all political parties as well as church and reform leaders, professional and business men, educators and men and women from all walks of life, are included in the signers of the call for the convention.

The movement contemplates the placing of the prohibition question squarely before the people of the state, the perfection of an organization which will work for the nomination of "dry" candidates at the primaries next March, and the election of those men, regardless of party, to the legislature next fall to insure the passage of the state law in 1917. The forces will also work, the call says, for the nomination and election of thirteen representatives and one senator who will vote for a national prohibition amendment to the federal constitution.

The signers are representative citizens and they come from 134 towns and cities in seventy counties. On the list are 220 republicans, 150 democrats, 77 progressives, 59 prohibitionists, 8 socialists, 16 independents and 172 not classified as to party.

In the number are thirty-three church leaders, twenty-one manufacturers, eight college presidents, twenty-two editors and forty-three officers and trustees of the Anti-Saloon league.

WHAT HUGHIE SAYS ABOUT FRIEND LOOIE

World-Famed Slinger of Baseball Yarns Tells of Local Man.

Every now and then when Ring Lardner's friend, Hughie Fullerton, gets writer's cramp doing stuff on the dim and distant future and the dimmer and more distant past, he cocks his feet on his desk and tells his man Friday to bring on another Looie Heilbroner story. Here are portions of his latest pen of praise for the local little giant of baseball dope:

"Baseball's clearing house, located at Fort Wayne, Ind., is perhaps the oldest and at the same time the most interesting example of the commercial development of the national game.

"Up in a suite of offices a little man whose hair has grown gray doing ball players, sits amidst a maze of figures that would drive the hardest dope fiend in the country insane, and amidst a maelstrom of sixes and eights and sevens and twos, and all combinations of figures possible, calmly sorts out the records of about 8,000 baseball players, follows their doings, day by day, reports what they have done to owners of baseball clubs in many parts of the country, and supplies the information that sends scouts scurrying all over America in search of second Ty Cobbs and Walter Johnsons.

"The keeper of this maze of figures is Louis Heilbroner, president of the Central league, former scout of the Cincinnati team, and a man who since a mere boy has been associated with baseball. "In his office from five to eight skilled youths, clever at figures, work constantly compiling statistics. The daily records of from 1,700 to 1,800 men are carried forward, so that, at the end of each day, the players' record and average is complete. "It was hard and expensive work to get the complete record but once, complete Looie compiled it in the baseball bluebook, a wonderful work of condensation, and after that players rushed to send in their records. Every manager, owner and most of the sporting editors must have the bluebook and sometimes Looie almost breaks even on it."

GLAD TIDINGS THESE.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Kern, wife of Senator John W. Kern, who will entertain a party of friends at a box party at the Washington and Lee football game here Oct. 30, has announced a reception at her home the night after the game in honor of "Ted" Schultz, captain of the Virginia eleven, who is a nephew of Mrs. Kern. Schultz, who is the star of the general team, is a Hoosier boy, residing at Logansport.

Buenos Aires, at the present rate of increase, will pass Chicago in 1930 and be the second city of the hemisphere.

"Duffy" Lewis Comes Home Wearing Same Sized Hat as He Did Before He Became Star of World's Series.

DUFFY LEWIS AND HIS WIFE

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—"Just had the breaks, that was all. I happened to come up in pines when they needed hits to win, and I was lucky enough to crack the ball. Outgassed their pitchers, that was the way it happened."

It was George (Duffy) Lewis talking, star of the late world's series, just returned from Boston—the same Duffy person that left these parts last spring, bound for the Red Sox training camp. He's still wearing the same size hat and his chest measurements remain as they were before.

There's no pompous attempt to analyze pitchers or to criticize this play and that. Just a straightforward assertion that he was working above his speed and luck was with him.

"Gee, but it's good to be back home again," declared the baseball star. "No baseball for me this winter. I just want to take a good rest."

The most valued possession the hero had when he arrived was a check for his share of the world's series money—$1,500.00.

And Duffy gave the check to his wife. Half a dozen tempting vaudeville offers were spurned by Lewis. He was promised big money for a ten-minute skit in New York, but couldn't see it that way, preferring to hit for the west and home.

"While the wide world was centering on Grover Alexander, they forgot that we had some good pitchers, too," asserted Lewis. "Personally, I don't think Alexander was as good in any one of the big games as he showed on the coast last fall. So much publicity about how he had to beat the Boston club single handed probably hurt his prospects. Our pitchers—Foster, Shore and Leonard, were in great shape and twirled fine ball."

"Dutch Leonard had a great year with the club. He was so excited about beating Alexander that he tossed me all around the clubhouse after the game. "That last home run I hit I'll never forget. The Phillies just dropped their heads as if they had been struck a blow. It took all the snap out of them."

Here's how the great games were generated. "Carson was spokesman for the club, and together with Wagner did the coaching on the bases. Ray Collins was the man behind the guns and kept record of every ball that was pitched to every batter. So, after each game, we would hold a conference the next morning. Then Collins would tell each one of us just what had been pitched and the board of strategy tried to figure out what was to be expected the next time up. We had as good a line on the pitchers as could be had, and I am sure it was a big asset."

Duffy didn't tarry in San Francisco. With Mrs. Duffy he and a handful of friends hopped on the train for Sonoma, Cal. Lewis' home, called by Jack London "The Valley of the Moon." A reception was being held there for "Devil Duffy," as they call him.

To Duffy that reception meant more than the cheers of the mighty crowd that greeted him when he stepped that homer in the sixth inning of the final game, tying the score. He sat almost dumbfounded through it all, an appreciative smile playing tag with his features.

And time and again Mrs. Duffy wanted to throw her arms around him, but—well, she didn't, yet she wasn't fooling anybody, to use an expression of the game. Her best delivery was hit to all corners of the lot.

The climax of the all night celebration came at 5:30 a. m. when the engineer of a freight train tied down his whistle, waking everybody within a radius of five miles. Everybody appreciated the engineer's spirit, but if that man visits that community in the near future his life won't be worth a thin dime.

THIRTY-FIVE AND A CHAMPION.

Frank Kramer Shows What Determination and Adherence to Simple Rules of Health Will Do for a Man.

(By Brown Holmes).

Thirty-five years of age and world's champion for the fifteenth consecutive year.

That's the record of Frank Kramer, of East Orange, N. J., as the bicycle racing season comes to a close. Not many persons are tossing their hats into the air over the bike races these days, but Kramer is a marvel among athletes and his record is a lesson of what can be accomplished through will power and adherence to simple health rules.

Men who hold or win championships at 35 are few. Larned couldn't do it in tennis, Travers couldn't do it in golf. Jeffries, Corbett and others failed to do it in the ring. Kramer has been champion fifteen years in a game where the average rider can stand the grind about five years.

When Kramer became a professional he decided to make bike racing his life work. He laid down certain rules and has kept them.

He does not smoke.
He does not drink intoxicants.
He shuns the bright lights.
He goes to bed at 9 o'clock and gets up at 6.

He eats only one real big meal a week.

Success in the United States and Europe brought many temptations. Kramer could have been fêted, wine and dined many times, but he went to bed instead of to wine suppers.

Once in a while he stays up late enough to see a show and eat a great big meal. That's his only dissipation.

As a boy he was sickly and his father bought him a bike to keep him outdoors. After he had a wheel two years he won the amateur championship in 1898 and repeated the next year. In 1901 he became a professional. He has seen thousands of riders come and go. He has won thousands of races. He has earned $125,000 and is under contract for two more years to the Newark, N. J., velodrome at $7,500 a year. He owns his home, an automobile and stocks.

This season found him as good as ever if not better. Opponents say of him: "In fifteen or twenty years, when our youngsters are trying to win bike prizes, Kramer will be there taking them away from them."

TWENTY TRY OUT FOR HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

Basket Ball Gets Under Way at Fort Wayne High and Manual.

Twenty basketball candidates turned out Monday evening at the first call of Coach Harry Thomas, of the Fort Wayne high and manual training school, and went through a preliminary workout at the James H. Smart school gym. The boys this year are a husky lot, and there is a wealth of material in the volunteers who were present last night. Coach Thomas will begin to prune the crowd at once and expects to have it down to half its present number in another fortnight.

Four or five of last year's regulars still are on the list of eligibles, so it will not be difficult to find a trunk on which to build a team, but there are a couple of vacancies that will have to be filled. The team this year will be a better matched organization than any in several years, for although there are no Gerberdings, there are no slow trailers either.

Principal Louis Ward and Coach Thomas have signed up with Marion, Ind., high school for the first game of the season, to be played on Nov. 24.

NOTHING DEFINITE ON SUNDAY'S GAME

Manager Lophshire, of the Friars, is growing wild eyed and hollow cheeked looking for a suitable game for next Sunday. He has a number of teams that are willing to try out against the locals but he will not take them because he realizes that it would simply mean a repetition of the early season's walkaways. However, he figures that he will be able to pull down something good and is sitting up nights trying to find the right eleven.

"HUMAN FREIGHT CAR" DIES

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Edward Dunkhorst, 38 years old, of Syracuse, N. Y., known as the "human freight car," on account of his enormous size, died here last night at a hospital.

He was a former sparring partner of Robert Fitzsimmons, and for the last nine years has given sparring exhibitions. Dunkhorst was six feet 7 inches in height and weighed 672 pounds at the time of his death.

THIS MAKES A DOZEN.

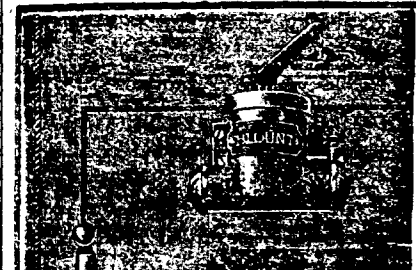

John Groom, aged 17, died at Pittsburgh yesterday of injuries received in a football game. He was a member of a high school team.

BY THEIR NAMES YE SHALL KNOW THEM

There is a movement afoot to make all fighters who sign up contracts sign with their real names as well as their ring names. So some fight fan has gone deep into the records of the cathedrals and synagogues and dug up the names by which some of the hopes were known to their friends and families before they were overcome by glory and the limelight of the ring.

There is one thing about the list that is discouraging. Hardly an Irishman is included in the list of fighters. Here they are:

Anchell Anchovitz Charlie White

Philip Conn Phil Harrison

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious
give "California Syrup
of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.
If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated, indigestible food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

Of Course, You Want Plumbing

All homes must have plumbing of some kind. The question is, what kind and how much plumbing? GIRL DRINK VICTIMS ARE ON INCREASE

Serious Problem Confronts
Mothers of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—Drunkenness among young girls is on the increase in Philadelphia, Mrs. Albert Smith, head of the city police matrons, told the members of the Women's Social union of the Reformed church, at their fall meeting in the Reformed church building recently.

Mrs. Smith said drinking among young girls is the most serious problem that is facing the mothers of the city. "Something is wrong with our family life to bring about such conditions as the police matrons are finding," she said. "There is a most decided increase in drinking among young women of the better class families. One police district's records showed that in one month there were sixty-five arrests of women for drunkenness to thirty-two arrests of men."

"And that isn't all. Go on the central streets any night about midnight, and you'll find drunken girls. These girls have been to drinking places in fashionable hotels with men who get them drunk and then are ashamed to be seen with them on the street. They take them near police stations and leave them."

"They are not ignorant and poor girls. They most often are girls from the better families and live on the good streets of the city. You women must do something."

MUCH BUILDING HERE FOR TIME OF YEAR
Ideal Weather Conditions Play an Important Part.

Contractors and real estate operators are viewing the unwonted late season building activities with interest and declare that more construction work is being done during the late months this year than for a number of years.

"There was a great scare in building circles over the talk of extended 'hard times' earlier in the year," declared a local contractor. "Despite the backward slump which resulted to building in other cities in Fort Wayne's case we managed to keep about even with last year. Now the property owners and real estate men feel that there is little ground for the fear that financial conditions are too backward to warrant investment in building improvements. They have got over the fear and are setting out to get ready for a really prosperous era. Had it not been for the calamity shouters' alarms building in Fort Wayne this season would have far exceeded that of last year."

Ideal weather conditions for the past few weeks have also played a part in keeping building going. Likewise there is plenty of labor available in Fort Wayne. The word that Fort Wayne is prosperous has gone around the country. Hence numbers of skilled mechanics have come to this city. While there is no urgent need for more carpenters and allied craftsmen, those who are here are almost all finding employment. This is pointed to as indicative of the good times Fort Wayne is enjoying.

There has been much activity in residence building circles. There are more dwellings going up now than is usual at this time of the year. A number of large jobs are also under way.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS
Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

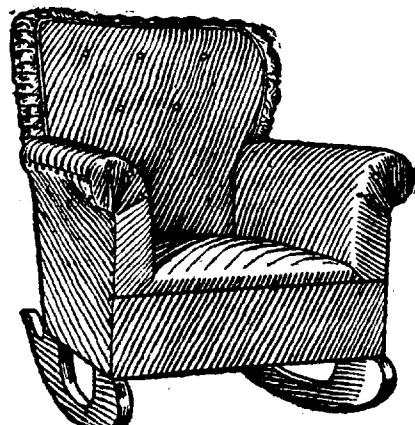

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any regular grocer. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

Decision Announced in Case of Two Terre Haute Election Candidates.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 26.—A writ of habeas corpus by which they sought to gain freedom from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., was denied Dr. John E. DIDN'T MISS PAY DAY IN 51 YEARS

Fred Kramer Quits Pennsy
Shops Next Saturday With Good Record.

Fifty-one years and six months in service without missing a pay day and but very few single days is the remarkable record established by Frederick Kramer, a painter at the Pennsylvania shops, who goes on the pension list next Monday, having passed his seven-tieth birthday. Mr. Kramer was born in Weindheim, Germany, October 3, 1845, came to America in 1863 and to Fort Wayne the following year. April 7, 1861, he took employment in the paint department of the Pennsylvania shops and has missed but very few days from work. He is still a rugged, strong man and able to perform the duties of his position, but the rules forbid and he must retire next Saturday.

There are two other Pennsylvania shopmen who will go on the pension list next Monday. They are laborers in the car shops. August Crane was born in Betzenhoff, Germany, October 3, 1845, and took employment in the Pennsylvania shops in July, 1866, nearly thirty years ago and has worked there ever since.

John Lindeman was born October 3, 1845, at Ostervegen, Germany, began work in the car shops July, 1863, and has worked there continuously since. The combined services of these three veterans is 112 years.

FEDERATION HAS MEETING.

Handles Vocational and Street Car Strike Matters Last Night.

At the meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor last night the vocational committee made its report on the commercial course at the Fort Wayne schools, which was not very encouraging and caused President J. D. Shaw to remark: "I believe that the school board and superintendent are breaking faith with the Fort Wayne laboring people in their promise to start a commercial course in the Fort Wayne schools." Some of the other delegates at the meeting made speeches on similar lines, asserting that no effort was being made by the board to introduce the commercial course in the vocational department of the schools. The federation instructed Treasurer Werkan to give the $300 necessary for the release of Frank Carpenter, who was arrested yesterday, charged with taking part in the attack Friday night on the street car conductor and motorman on the Lakeside line. The federation also endorsed the new agreement prepared by the Meat Cutters, which provides for a minimum wage of $15 to $18 and time and a half for overtime, a ten and a half hour working day and a half holiday each week during the months of May, June, July and August. J. R. Anderson attacked, through resolution, the validity of the proceedings of the an-

ASK FOR INCREASED WAGES.

The movement started by the Wabash shopmen for more wages and better working conditions several months ago has advanced to definite point and the men are now asking an increase of four cents on the hour. They have held several conferences with E. F. Needham, superintendent of motive power, and are now holding conferences with General Manager S. E. Cotter, at St. Louis, with good prospects of an amicable adjustment. Fort Wayne men who left last night to take part in the conference are: Machinist L. D. Miller, Blacksmith N. E. Weaver, Boilermaker Edward Seibold and Pipefitter F. J. Schwanz. This will mean, based upon a forty hour per week working schedule, an increase of $1.60 per week.

DOUBLED UP BETWEEN CARS.

William Horstman, of 256 Baker street, was "doubled up" like a jack-knife at 9:30 o'clock last night, when the cars he was riding between were driven together by a switch engine. Mr. Horstman was sitting on the bumpers when the accident happened and his escape from more serious injury was miraculous. Both legs were hurt, but no bones were broken. Dr. Bolman attended the unfortunate man. The city ambulance was called to take Horstman home after the accident.

EYELID BADLY CUT.

Chief Tie Inspector A. Roth, of the Pennsylvania, sustained a painful injury last week when his hand slipped and the crank of a gasoline engine struck him in the face, breaking his eyeglasses and driving a piece of broken glass through his eyelid. Fortunately the sight was not affected. The accident happened on the farm.

HOW TO HANDLE EXPLOSIVES.

With liquid and solid explosives A. F. Estes demonstrated the right and wrong way of handling explosives while in transit, either by freight or express. The lecture was given at the Commercial club and was attended by express and railway employees of this city and the surrounding towns. It was one of many lectures of its kind that have been given in Fort Wayne.

WOODIN IS IMPROVING.

Walter J. Woodin, the Pennsylvania engineer, who passed through a most difficult operation a few days ago, is said to be doing well and gives promise of speedy and complete recovery. Mr. Woodin was on the operating table nearly three hours. He suffered from abscesses of the stomach.

INVESTIGATING A PROPOSITION.

Machinist Clifford Benoy, of the Pennsylvania shops, has obtained a leave of absence and gone to Toledo to stay a few weeks. It is said that he has under contemplation going into business up there and is taking the lay off to investigate the proposition.

HORSES FOR EXPORT.

A train of twenty-one cars loaded with horses passed through the city over the Pennsylvania at midnight, going to New York, via Cleveland. The animals are for shipment to Europe for service in the armies of the allies.

Household Economy
How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save 52 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain sugar. A pint of granulated sugar with a pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 64 cents, a full pint of really better cough remedy than you can buy anywhere for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and cures it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and the chest, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

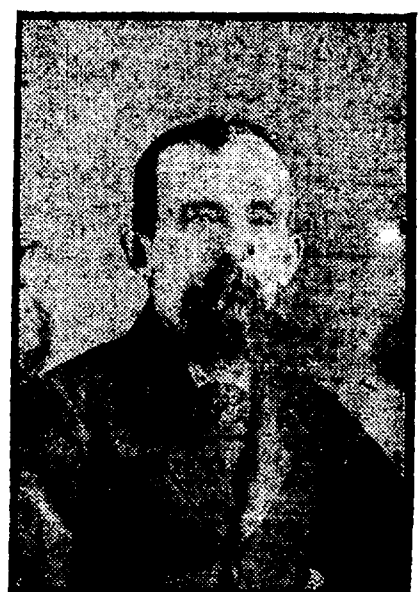

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with gualiac, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money refunded, is given with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

DEPUTY FACTORY INSPECTOR HERE

Investigating Violations of Child Labor Law of Year 1913.

Deputy State Factory Inspector Kayser, of Indianapolis, is in the city looking after the duties pertaining to his office. One of his principal duties on this visit is to investigate any violation of the child labor law of 1913, which prohibits the employment of any child under the age of fourteen years and also under sixteen and over fourteen years when they have not at first procured a legal certificate from the superintendent of the Fort Wayne public schools. Another violation is the employment of any child over fourteen years of age who has not passed through the fifth grade in school. Not only does the deputy state factory inspector investigate the conditions in the factories of this city, but will make a visit to all offices of employers who employ children.

The school officials of the city are of the opinion that many employers as well as citizens do not understand the child labor law and that the offenses in many cases are not the outgrowth of willful disobedience but because they are not either acquainted with the requirements of the law or do not know that such a law exists.

Employers who violate this law are putting themselves liable to a heavy penalty. Much annoyance is caused to the attendance officers by employers neglecting to send back to the office no later than the day after the date of the discharge or abandonment of the employment of children. Any child, boy or girl, over fourteen and under sixteen, must be employed or must go to school.

Since the child labor law has gone into effect the city school superintendent's office has issued 1,039 permits to children over fourteen years of age who have completed the fifth grade in school in accordance with the terms of the law.

HOBO BEERFEST IS RAIDED BY POLICE

Crowd, Including Two or Three Boys, Arraigned for Vagrancy.

A squad of policemen raided a hobo camp along the Wabash railway tracks west of Fairbairn avenue, early Monday morning, and gathered in nine fellows, most of them young and two or three of them mere boys. The crowd was having a beerfest and had been "running the can" to nearby saloons until people of the neighborhood complained to the police. Two or three of the hoboes were drunk and were very drunk. Judge Kerr split up the gang when its members were arraigned Tuesday morning on charges of vagrancy, turning four of them loose and holding two until Wednesday and two until Thursday.

Easy for Misses May.
May Beardsley, who was in a few days ago and allowed to go after pleading guilty to a drunk charge, was back again Tuesday morning with a similar plea. She was found down and out at Montgomery and Lafayette streets, where she was arrested by Motorcycle Officer King. Judge Kerr fined her $1 and costs and she went to jail for eleven days.

Warren Hearing Again Postponed.
Charles L. Warren, or Commodore Perry Hull, as the case may be, was in court again to have a preliminary hearing on the charge of passing fraudulent checks, but the case was again continued, October 29 being fixed as the new date. The state asked for the continuance and Frank A. Emrick, counsel for Warren, consented.

Other City Court Cases.
Gust Wittig, who comes more or less frequently, was fined $1 and costs on a drunk charge. He had caused some excitement on the north side.

William Logue, who has been making a nuisance of himself about the Orpheum theater for some time and had drawn a knife on an attendant who tried to make him leave the place, besides annoying a young lady who sells tickets by following her, was continued until Wednesday and put under bond. His mental condition will be inquired into.

Herman Hemmerley's father, an aged man, testified against the son and said he had been drunk for several days and causing trouble at home. Herman was fined $5 and costs and went to jail.

Ray Carter, charged with assault and battery on John Finney, Saturday night, as a result of which Finney is in the hospital with a fractured skull, was continued until November under $200 bond. Carter is employed at the Hedgess saloon on East Columbia street.

G. H. McBride, a jitney driver, was tried for violating the traffic ordinances and was given an indefinite continuance. He was warned not to take aboard eight passengers in his Ford car again. He ran into two persons at the transfer corner.

John Cook, of Berne, Ind., a man 73 years old, came to Fort Wayne Monday to shop, got very drunk and was locked up for safe-keeping. He was allowed to start back home.

Mike Kocher, charged with drunkenness and making trouble, was continued until Wednesday.

Charles Hershberger, whose wife had him arrested for getting drunk and abusing her, was turned loose, after his wife had interceded for him.

Anson Preston, the negro who shot Joe Davis, another colored man, two weeks ago, was continued until November 9, Davis still being unable to appear. Preston protested against the delay. He carried his now familiar pocket bible with him into court.

James Gray, aged 74 years, who said he had been troubled away from the poor house after being committed there, was arraigned for vagrancy and given a chance to leave the city.

Notice, Royal Neighbors!
All members of Fort Camp, 738, are earnestly requested to meet at Westminster Presbyterian church Thursday, at 2 p. m. to attend the funeral of Neighbor Clara Griebel. Jitney service to cemetery.

MINISTER GIVES TESTIMONY.

The Rev. C. M. Knighton, Havana Fla., writes: "For three months I suffered intense pain in kidneys and back, which at times laid me out entirely. I read of Foley Kidney Pills and after trying various remedies without result I decided to try the Foley treatment. I was relieved almost with the first dose and it is a fact that I used only 1½ bottles when all of the pains disappeared. I am 55 years of age and now feel like a young man again." CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Declines took place in the wheat market today on account of unresponsive cables and because of favorable weather in the northwest. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ off to 1/4¢ up, with December at $1.01 to $1.01 1/2 and May at $1.03 to $1.03 1/2, were followed by a material setback all around.

The close was steady, 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ net lower, with December at $1.00 1/2 and May at $1.02 1/2@1.02 3/4.

Corn eased off with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1/4¢ lower the market underwent a moderate general sag.

The close was steady at a net gain of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢.

Traders in oats took their cue from the bearish action of other grain.

Lack of support weakened provisions.

Women Save $5 Using Gasoline

Says it is so easy to dry clean and nothing shrinks, fades or wrinkles.

Save $5 to $10 by doing your own dry cleaning. Here is a simple and inexpensive way to clean and brighten children's coats, suits, caps, woolen garments, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, kid gloves and shoes, furs, neckties, ribbons, silks, satins, lace, yokes, silk shirtwaists, draperies, rugs, in fact, with any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it readily dissolves. Then put in the goods to be cleaned. After a little rubbing out they come looking as clean as the fresh air. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

Any woman can do home dry cleaning in a few moments at little cost and save lots of money. It is as simple and easy as laundering, and you can't make a mistake. Your grocer or any Garage will supply the gasoline, and your druggist will sell you two ounces of solvite which is simply a gasoline soap. Then a wash boiler or large dishpan completes your home dry cleaning outfit.—Advertisement.

NO ELECTION AT GRABILL.

Upon advice of their attorney pending a decision by the state attorney general, no election will be held at Grabill this fall. The attorney did not regard it as a good policy to nominate city tickets for the reason that the 1915 legislature did not provide a time for holding elections this fall. Notwithstanding, three other incorporated towns will hold elections on Nov. 2 as follows: Monroeville, New Haven and Woodburn.

HOG FEEDING DEMONSTRATION.

A hog feeding demonstration has been started on the farm of J. P. Butt in Maumee township. The purpose of the demonstration is to show the value of hogging down corn and soy beans. Mr. Butt is the second largest hog raiser in the state.

To Remove Unightly Hairs And Other Aids to Beauty

Except the electric needle, there is absolutely only one safe, sure and painless way to get rid of unsightly hairs and that is to dissolve them. Pastes, powders and razors only shave them off and in time they are as thick and as stubby as a man's beard. Fashions now demand that neck, arms and ankles be devoid of hairs. Any woman can get rid of these unsightly blemishes in a few minutes if she will but get from her druggist one ounce of simple sulfo solution and apply to the hairy places. It will take just about three minutes to dissolve the hairs away entirely, leaving the skin soft and white without a scar or irritation of any kind.

Blackheads are another of the unsightly blemishes that many women are troubled with. Squeezing and pinching do no good and leave the skin full of holes. The only way to get rid of the pesky things is to dissolve them. Get a little powdered norexin from your druggist, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge and rub briskly over the blackheads: in about a minute they will be entirely dissolved, leaving the skin soft and smooth without a mark of any kind.

Roughness and redness of the hands can very easily be overcome and the skin left soft and velvety by using at night the following simple cream lotion: Dissolve one ounce of zincine in a pint of hot water. This makes a beautiful white satiny cream and if used liberally will soon change a rough, red, spotted skin into one of velvety, peach-like loveliness.—Advertisement.

SHRUBBERY

We have just received a fine line of white, pink and red altheas, single altheas, hydrangeas, deutzias, lilacs, honeysuckle, syringas, snowberry and weigela. We have only a limited stock of shrubbery for fall planting and would suggest that if in need of any to call as early as possible as our supply will not last long.

SUNDAY PUTS CASE UP TO CHICAGO MEN

Evangelist Does Not Mince
Words in Outlining His Campaign Plans.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—"Billy" Sunday squared off before 400 preachers and business men yesterday afternoon, and figuratively he cut them, pulled their hair, stood them up in the corner to reflect on their shortcomings, and among them there was not one to protest.

"Billy" talked to them in a characteristic Sunday way and made them like it. He smiled and frowned, and shook his head in a warning manner and they nodded approval. Whatever they came for, it was evident they went away his friends.

Must Be In Earnest.

"If you are not ready to go into this fight for God in earnest, you had better get out now," he told the committee of 100 and the others assembled on the nineteenth floor of the Hotel LaSalle. "It is going to be the best opportunity ever offered to show whether there is a streak of saffron in your make-up."

"Some of you say, 'I like you, but I don't like your methods.' Well, then, I won't come. Wherever I go I take my methods with me."

"You give more time to your business in one day," he said again, "than you give to religion in six months. If you didn't pay more attention to your business than you do to your religion, you would have been no more of a success in business than you have been in religion."

But the listeners were greedy for punishment. Heads went back at the first two or three blows, but after that the 400 sat and took it. They became enthusiastic. "Good," they shouted. "That's right!" they answered. In less than five minutes "Billy" had them all coming his way. It was a clean-up for the evangelist.

"If we can wake up this town," he said, "it will go for Jesus Christ so fast you won't be able to see anything but fog and dust."

"If you fellows get back of this fight we will have the devil in a hospital in a few weeks."

Mr. Sunday said he was an old-fashioned preacher, preaching the old-fashioned gospel.

Assails the "Highbrows."

"Highbrow preachers are wearing on shoe leather looking for jobs," he said.

"One day a preacher said to me: 'Why don't you preach like I do?' and I said: 'If I preached the way you do I would be worth no more than you are.'"

"Billy" outlined briefly the plans for his Chicago campaign. A tabernacle is to be built in some central location. That is a mandatory requirement. He has his own tabernacle builder. He wants a structure which will seat about 20,000.

MAN'S LIFE IS LONGER.

Average Length Increases Ten Years in
Past 25, Says Doctor.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Within the last twenty-five years the average length of man's life has been increased ten years, according to Dr. Victor C. Vaughn, dean of the medical college of the University of Michigan, one of the speakers before the central states conference on problems of social hygiene which held its concluding sessions here today. Dr. Vaughn said it is possible that humanity if the present advance in medical learning is continued will see the average length of life of the next generation increased 15 years. Such longevity has been due, he said, to the enlightenment of the public on how to live according to the rules of medical science.

REQUEST IS MADE
BY PETITIONERS

Explain That Employes in
Ft. Wayne Had Quit and Places Are Filled.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Requests for a permanent injunction in connection with the Fort Wayne street car strike, as well as citations for contempt of court against Joseph C. Colgan, a member of the executive board of the national union of street car employes, and James E. Hooper and Claud B. Houston, leaders of the street car employes in Fort Wayne, were dismissed by Judge A. B. Anderson in federal court here today.

The hearing on the request for a permanent injunction was set for tomorrow, but attorneys for the United States Mortgage and Trust Company of Philadelphia, bondholders of the Fort Wayne street car company, moved today that the prayer be dismissed.

It was explained that the injunction was sought to prevent a strike, but since the temporary order had been issued the employes had quit work and that now the company had filled their places with new men.

The temporary order was issued last month and the next day the men went on strike. Colgan and the two Fort Wayne leaders were then cited for contempt.

BIG SHELL BARELY MISSES REPAIR SHIP

Panther in Range of Tests
of 14-Inch Missile at Proving Grounds.

New York, Oct. 26.—The repair ship Panther, of the United States navy, had a narrow escape from being hit by a 14 inch shell fired from the proving grounds at Sandy Hook today. The large projectile flew directly over the Panther and struck in the ocean about a mile beyond her.

The Panther, with a number of other war vessels taking part in the maneuvers off the coast composed a fleet that is defending the entrance to New York harbor. Early today these vessels came within range of a 14 inch gun which is being tested at the proving grounds and the narrow escape of the Panther from a shell was the result. The commander of the Panther immediately after the shot was fired, sent a wireless report of the incident to the commanding officer at Fort Hancock.

The other vessels of the fleet defending the harbor in the war game likewise came within range of the big guns at Sandy Hook although none of them had the close call of the Panther. These were the mine planter General Mills, General Frank and General Schofield, all of which were cruising off the New Jersey coast while the gun test was being conducted. The Panther was flag ship of the little fleet. Earlier in the forenoon a shot from the 14 inch gun passed well to the seaward of the mine planters. A flotilla of six torpedo boats, and destroyers were patrolling further eastward at the time. The Panther was about seven miles from shore when the shell passed over her.

DRAGNET OUT FOR ANOTHER

Fifth Man Wanted in Conspiracy to Blow Up War
Munition Ship.

A GENERAL ALARM
FOR MAX BREITUNG

Fay Called Bombs on Ships
Joke—Urged Attack on Chemical Works.

New York, Oct. 26.—With four men already under arrest in the alleged conspiracy of German agents to blow up war munition ships sailing from American ports, federal secret service agents today searched for a fifth man, Max Breitung, who was described as secretary and treasurer of the Oilwell Supply company, of this city. It was charged by the complaint filed with a United States commissioner by W. J. Flynn, that Breitung had taken part with the others in a conspiracy to demolish the owners of a vessel of money, goods or merchandise on board. It was specifically set forth that Breitung had a quantity of elaborate pots found by detectives who raided the rooms of other alleged conspirators in Weehawken and Hoboken, N. J.

Dr. Herbert Kiensle, manager of a clock company, who is charged with having aided the alleged conspirators in obtaining explosives used by Fay in the Tombs prison awaiting examination on Nov. 4.

Had Spent $30,000.

It was said that Fay, who in his confession claimed to be the head of the conspiracy, had spent $30,000 in six months on his experiments with explosives intended to wreck steamships carrying munitions to the allies. A mass of German correspondence seized among the effects of Fay and Scholz were being translated today. It was said that other arrests may be made of men operating in Philadelphia, Baltimore and other eastern cities.

After failing to locate Breitung at either his home or office here police today sent out a general alarm for him.

Dacche Demands Arraignment.

Robert Fay, a lieutenant in the German army, Walter Scholz, and Paul Dacche were arraigned in a Weehawken, N. J., police court today on charges in connection with an alleged plot to blow up steamships sailing from New York with munitions for the allies. The three men were discharged by the court but were immediately arrested by federal agents on charges of conspiracy sworn to by Chief Flynn, of the secret service.

Fay and Scholz were brought to New York in custody of the federal officers. Dacche at first agreed to go to New York, but when counsel advised him that he had the right of arraignment before the nearest federal commissioner, he claimed that privilege, saying he had nothing in common with the others and did not care to go to New York without arraignment. He was then turned over to an assistant of Chief Flynn.

After the Chemical Works.

While waiting for the men to be transferred to his custody Chief Flynn said he was in possession of information which showed that Fay had told a man named Veig the proper way to stop the shipments of munitions to the allies was to blow up the chemical works. He explained that it was useless to try to blow up shell and powder works, because those plants could make replacements and the worst damage that could be done there would be that they would be closed for a week or so. If the chemical plants were attacked they would be at the fountain head and repairs could be quickly made.

Fay also, the chief said, ridiculed some of the bombs found on various ships in the harbor and declared they were no good and made by amateurs. "Joke bombs," he termed them. He said they would do no effective damage. According to the chief, Fay asserted that when he left Holland for America on the Rotterdam he carried a letter to a very high official, but on the first day out he destroyed it, fearing he might be searched and the letter found.

Chief Flynn, when asked if he considered that Captain Roy-Ed and Captain von Papen had been implicated in

GOVERNOR WILL NAME DAY FOR DEDICATION

Appropriate Exercises to Be
Held at New Lincoln
School.

That Governor Samuel M. Ralston will be here for the dedication of the new Lincoln school building in Washington township, is almost a certainty for the reason that the date will be set to suit his convenience.

The date for the dedication was originally set for November 5, but it was learned that the governor would be unable to come on that day. Then it was decided to fix the date to suit the governor.

Besides the governor, Charles A. Greathouse, superintendent of public instruction in Indiana; Lee Driver, superintendent of the schools of Randolph county and one of the first to advocate the centralized school idea in Indiana, and a number of other prominent speakers will be here.

D. O. McComb, superintendent of the schools of Allen county, will go to Indianapolis, Wednesday, when he will extend the invitation to the governor to speak here.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Hundreds of delegates were here for the opening today of the annual convention of the Indiana Federation of Women's Clubs. While a number of meetings were held during the day by committees, the formal opening of the convention was not until tonight.

Probably never before in the history of the federation has there been such a spirited campaign for the office of president of the organization. There are two avowed candidates, Mrs. Clark Fairbank, of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. L. J. Cox, of Terre Haute. Both women have been leaders in the federation since it was organized.

Among the meetings today were those of the board of directors of the credentials committee and of the council. The formal opening of the convention is set for 8 o'clock, after which will follow a reception at 10 o'clock.

Zeppelin Bomb Shock Kills Without Wound

London, Oct. 26.—(Correspondence of the American Press.)—Surgeons in English hospitals who attended victims of Zeppelin raids give remarkable facts regarding the work of bombs launched from aircraft. Apart from their explosive force, missiles dropped from a height of a mile or two gain such momentum that they do great damage by their disturbance of the air. Some of those killed have met their death from the shock of the explosion without being hit by any fragments of shell or sustaining wounds. Persons have lost legs and arms from the same cause. A large portion of those killed in the streets and a majority of the wounded

Strike-Breaker Motorman
Identifies Him as One
of Assailants.

Charles Carpenter, 461 Ruth street, a striking motorman lately in the employ of the Traction company on the city lines, was found guilty in the city court, Tuesday morning, of assault and battery on Theodore Thompson, of Indianapolis, a motorman employed as a strike-breaker here. He was fined $50 and costs and an appeal was taken to the circuit court.

It was charged that Carpenter was one of four men who forcibly took Thompson from a street car at the Crescent avenue terminal of the Lakeside line a few minutes after eleven o'clock last Friday night, dragged them into the shade of the trees near by and were going to tie the strike-breakers to a tree, when Thompson broke away, out-distanced his pursuers, got aboard his car and ran it to the Columbia street bridge, where he reported the outrage to police officers he encountered there.

Alibi Not Held Good.

Carpenter entered a plea of not guilty and as defense set up an alibi. Motorman Thompson was the principal witness against him and he was most positive in his identification of Carpenter as one of the four men who had attacked him and Anderson. He stated that he had the day following the attack come face to face with Carpenter in the public comfort station at the court house and at once recognized him as one of his assailants. Thompson signed an affidavit charging Carpenter with assault and battery and the strike-

TEACHERS' MEETING CONVENES THURSDAY

No Effort Will Be Made to Secure Convention for Next Year.

Teachers of Fort Wayne and Allen county will leave Thursday morning at 8:15 o'clock on a special train over the Lake Erie and Western railroad for Indianapolis to attend the annual convention of the Indiana Teachers' association. The special will leave Indianapolis for the return trip at 6 o'clock Friday evening.

Both Superintendents J. N. Study, of the city schools, and D. O. McComb, of the county schools, received letters Tuesday announcing that President Woodrow Wilson, who was scheduled to speak Friday afternoon, will be unable to be present. The letter says:

"We have been successful, however, in securing the services of Helen Stanley, the popular American soprano, of the Chicago Opera company, to take the afternoon program of October 29. The whole afternoon's program will be devoted to a musical. There will be no address. The Indianapolis Symphony orchestra will divide the time with Miss Stanley."

Fort Wayne teachers will make no effort to secure the convention for this city next year for the reason that there is no building large enough to accommodate such a meeting. The schools of the city and county will adjourn Wednesday afternoon till Monday morning.

COMMISSION WILL NOT TAKE ACTION

It is not likely that the members of the Indiana public service commission will be asked to arbitrate the differences now pending between the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company and its former employes now out on a strike when they visit Fort Wayne late Tuesday for the purpose of changing cars. When it was reported that they were coming a report was immediately circulated that they would be asked to take action in the controversy, but was denied by both officials of the traction company and street car men.

The commission spent Tuesday in Roanoke considering the petition of citizens who have asked the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company to install warning bells at Vine and Coe streets. The company is objecting to the installing of bells on the ground that the crossings are not dangerous and that during eighteen years but one serious accident has occurred at either of the crossings.

EVERYTHING READY FOR PLOWING CONTEST

Farmers from all parts of Allen county will be in attendance Wednesday at the silver anniversary plowing contest to be held on the farm of Christ Vanderau, on the Mayville road, eight miles east of Fort Wayne, under the auspices of the Allen County Plowing contest. Liberal prizes have been offered. Prof. W. C. Latta, of the department of agriculture, Purdue university, has been selected as plowing judge, and Frank Kell, of Huntertown, as corn and potato judge.

The various officers and committees in charge of the contest are: C. G. Vanderau, president; Clarence Henry, secretary and treasurer; committee on arrangements, George V. Kell, George W. Gillie, Charles Meyers, John H. Thrash; committee on field, Joseph Tomkel, Ernest Gallmeier, George Meyers, John A. Today's War News
Given in Summary

Teutonic forces have gained further ground in Serbia, Berlin announced today. Progress was made east of Vizgrad, in Bosnia, where the Austrians are engaged; an advance was scored in the Raca valley, south of Palanka and further to the east Maraovatch, Lape and Kutschevo were captured.

The Bulgarians in the Strumitza region have taken the offensive against the French, but the Bulgarian attack along the whole was completely repulsed, Paris officially declares. It is denied that French forces have been repulsed on the right bank of the Vardar river.

Recapture of positions along a front of approximately 250 metres north of Lumsine, in the Champagne, taken by the French on Sunday, is claimed in today's German official statement. The French are declared to have retained only one small trench.

Capture of a German trench to the northeast of Massiges, also in the Champagne district, is claimed by the French war office.

In the Riga-Dvinsk campaign Field Marshal von Hindenburg's forces are again making progress receding the Iloukist district. Victories for Prince Leopold's armies in the Baulonivich region and for those of Gen. von Linsingen, near Kolki and Czartorysk, on the southern end of the line, are reported.

A British news agency dispatch from Madrid brings a report that Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor, will submit soon to President Wilson and King Alfonso, of Spain, an outline of the conditions upon which Germany might be disposed to discuss peace terms.

According to Paris advices, Russia has completed her preparations for the dispatch of strong forces to help Serbia.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—German advances on all fronts are reported in today's official statement. German positions over a front of 250 metres in the Champagne north of Lumsine, which the French captured on Sunday are said to have been re-taken. Five officers and 150 French soldiers were captured. Only one small trench northeast of Lumsine remains in the hands of the French.

On the northern part of the Russian front Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army has again crossed the Iloukist district, and reconquered Kasimirshtiki farm.

Further south the Bavarian army of Prince Leopold repulsed Russian attacks east of Baranovichi and south of Vygonovskoye lake. The army of Gen. von Linsingen has stormed the Russian position west of Gzartorysk and repulsed a Russian counter attack. Four officers, 1,450 men and ten machine guns were captured.

A further advance was made yesterday by the German forces in Serbia. East of Vizgrad, Bosnia, further progress was made and several positions were occupied. South of Palanka ground was gained on the northern slope of the Raca valley. Further east the Germans captured Markovatch, Lape and Kutschevo. During the last three days 960 Serbs have been captured.

BATTLE TIDE FLUCTUATES.

Little Gain for Either Indicated in Paris Dispatches.

Paris, Oct. 26.—Fighting has continued in the Champagne district at La Courtil with fluctuations, according to the announcement made by the French war office this afternoon. The stubborn French resistance and the offensive activity of the French troops checked the counter attacks of the Germans. The text of the communication follows:

"The close fighting in the Champagne district has continued in the central position known as La Courtil and the fluctuations of the tide of battle have been held to a limited area. The stubborn resistance of our troops and their immediate return to the offensive were successful in breaking the counter attacks of the enemy."

BERLIN WILL MAKE ITS DEMANDS KNOWN

Note to Wilson and Alfonso to Set Out Basis of Discussion to End War, is Report.

London, Oct. 26.—A report reached here today that Prince von Buelow, former German ambassador, will shortly submit to President Wilson and King Alfonso of Spain an outline of the conditions on which Germany might be disposed to discuss terms of peace.

The report is contained in a Renter dispatch from Madrid and has not been corroborated from any other source. The dispatch gives as authority Prince Camille, an Italian nobleman, who is a brother-in-law of Prince von Buelow. The report was first published in Madrid, the correspondent says, in the form of a message from Rome.

Race at Exciting Stage.
The race for the road to Constantinople has reached an exciting stage. The Bulgarians are within a few miles of forming a junction with their Austro-German allies while the French in small force already have joined the Serbians. The French are not yet in sufficient numbers to assume an actual offensive in Macedonia, but the rapidity of the Bulgarian advance in that region already has been diminished. Along the old Bulgarian frontier, from a point northeast of Vrayna to the Rumanian border, the Serbians are yielding little ground.

Actual junction between the Bulgarians and their allies, which may be a matter of only a few hours, will soon show whether the Serbians are able to hold their mountain positions until the entente allies bring up strong forces. Italy is still lumbering away at the Austrian front, which is shaken but unbroken. It is expected in London that the Italian offensive will at least prevent the Austrians from reinforcing their Balkan army.

East and West.
Russia by her stubborn defense of Riga and Dvinsk and her continued offensive in Galicia is keeping her opponents engaged busily along the whole eastern front.

In the west there is evidence that the entente allies are again preparing for an offensive, which may prevent the Germans from diverting any of their forces there.

The Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant, as quoted by Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent, gives German losses from October 11 to 20 as 57,421 in dead, wounded and missing. The total Prussian losses are given as 2,021,078.

The newspaper says there have also been issued 225 Bavarian, 209 Saxon, 286 Wuertemberg and 53 naval casualty lists, as well as lists of officers and under officers with the Turkish army. The Courant figures the total losses to the central powers at 5,000,000.

PARCEL POST TO U. S. HALTED BY GERMANY

Berlin, Oct. 25.—(Via London Oct. 26.)—The parcel post service to America has been discontinued until further notice. No official reason for the discontinuance is given.

Last April several thousand post packages mailed from Germany to the United States via Switzerland, were returned to the senders by the Swiss postal authorities because the British and French governments had given notification that parcels addressed to German citizens in the United States would be seized whenever they were found on shipment. Parcels sent from Germany to Spain and Portugal have met a similar fate in France. On April 7 the German postal officials suspended the parcel post service to various parts of South America.

During his short visit here he will speak to the members of the real estate exchange.

OPENS PLEA SOON AFTER BREAKFAST
Lancaster, O., Oct. 25.—Former Secretary of State William J. Bryan began the second day of his campaign for state wide prohibition in Ohio here this morning with a speech delivered shortly after he had finished his breakfast.

As in his speeches of yesterday, Mr. Bryan refrained from discussing politics not involving the liquor question. Though the proposed prohibition amendment which will be submitted to Ohio voters in the election of Nov. 2 was the speaker's chief topic, he attacked the so-called constitutional stability proposal which would prevent for six years a vote on a bill that had been twice defeated.

First Woman of Indian Descent Given Entrance to Supreme Court.
Washington, Oct. 25.—Miss Lydia B. Conley, of Kansas City, Mo., is the first woman of Indian descent to be admitted to practice law before the supreme court. Her admission was moved by Solicitor General Davis.

Several years ago Miss Conley attracted attention by resisting an attempt to remove the bodies of her ancestors from an Indian burial ground in Kansas City. She carried the litigation to the supreme court and there argued her own case, losing it, however. Her appearance in her own case was with special permission of the court.

A car on the East Creighton avenue line smashed into a pay-as-you-enter car at Brackenridge street at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, badly damaging both cars. No one was hurt.

Will Form Stock Company.

The organization of a $100,000 stock company, with shares of stock at $10 each, to be paid $2 down and the remaining $8 in four monthly installments for the establishment of an auto bus system, was recommended by the finance committee at the regular meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor Monday evening. The committee was authorized to act and decide on the cars it saw fit to purchase.

According to the report of Treasurer J. C. Werkman, who also is treasurer of the car men's fund, $1,435.32 has been paid in and $1,119.83 paid out in benefits to the car men since the strike started, leaving a balance of $315.49.

A meeting of the jitney "bus drivers" union was held Monday evening and each member was assessed $1 for the benefit of the car men. An assessment of twenty-five cents a week was also levied on each member to be paid weekly for the benefit of the car men during the strike. Twenty new members were added to the jitney union Monday night, swelling the membership to about 100.

Only ten old employees, who, with one exception, failed to join the union, are working. They are Van Ness, Simmons, James Liggett, Fred Rodemeyer, Howard Schumard, Wilhelm, "Doc" Denavan, Milo Cutter and Korporal.

PROBE FIRE IN WHICH 12 GIRLS LOST LIVES

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 26.—Investigations started last night by city and county officials into the box factory fire yesterday that took the lives of 12 girl employees and one man and caused serious injuries to eight other persons, were resumed today. Mayor J. G. Armstrong announced that a sweeping probe of all the circumstances would be made.

At the hospital today it was stated that the death of Gertrude Nedd, one of the factory girls who jumped from the third story to the sidewalk, was hourly expected. She sustained many broken bones and severe injuries to her head. George H. Woods, who also jumped, was another victim said to be in a critical condition. Both legs were broken and physicians feared he sustained internal injuries. The remainder of the injured were reported in a satisfactory condition although it will be weeks before some of them are able to leave the hospital.

Starts in Straw Pile.
The flames started in a pile of straw in the rear of the feed store of James Brown & Co., on the first floor of the building. William C. Kimbel, general manager of the box factory company, went at once to the third and fourth floors and warned the girls employed there to leave quietly. The flames gained headway so rapidly, however, that escape by means of stairways and fire escapes was soon cut off. Some of the girls attempted to go to the dressing room for their hats and, there, huddled on the floor, firemen found a majority of the bodies.

Joseph I. Bash, 24 years old, and A. J. Scagle, employed on the second floor of the building, were about to jump when they were attracted by the screams of girls in the windows above. The men told the girls to jump. One by one as the girls leaped, Bash and Scagle caught them, lowered them as far as they could and then let them drop to the sidewalk.

C. R. Carlisle, driver of a transfer wagon, drove his wagon into an alley in the rear of the building and threw up a rope to girls in a window above. After making one end fast, they slid down the rope to safety.

Trapped Behind Door.
Margaret Steigerwald, 17 years old, who was injured by jumping from a third-floor window, said she and five other girls were trapped in the building when somebody closed a door at the head of the stairway on the second floor.

"We got our wraps and started down the stairway," said Miss Steigerwald. "As we reached the second floor some person closed the door at the head of the stairway and we were trapped. We tried to open the door without success and then we started back to the third floor. By that time the third floor was filled with smoke. We made for the windows. One girl pushed me away from a window and I was the last to jump."

An attempt of a man to make moving pictures of the removal of bodies from the building was stopped by the police.

W. Noble Matthews, superintendent of police, said arrests would follow any other attempt.

WAR IS AFFLICTING HOLY FATHER DEEPLY

Pope Benedict in Interview Tells of Suffering Over Conflict.

Rome, Oct. 25.—Via Paris, Oct. 26.—Pope Benedict, in an interview published in the Avvenire (Italy), expressed his deep affliction by the tragic events ravaging Europe and his suffering at being obliged to look powerless upon such a spectacle, but in his father's heart, which cherished alike all his children, the pope said he thought only of the day when the rulers of warring peoples shall understand the necessity and duty of ending the carnage, which is overthrowing all human and divine laws.

The holy father abstained, he said, from passing judgments, which have no practical result, but would, on the contrary, cause fresh recriminations and sow fresh discords. He deplored the violence and barbarities practiced in a war wherein the conquests of science were placed at the service of murder.

In conclusion the pope declared that his appeal for peace having been unheard, he would continue the charitable work for the benefit of the wounded.

CONVICTED, BUT WILL BE FREE IN 90 DAYS

Come, Italy, Oct. 26.—Porter Charlton, of New York, son of Judge Charlton, of the United States court in Porto Rico, was found guilty yesterday of the murder of his actress wife while on their honeymoon here in 1910.

The court sentenced the prisoner to six years and eight months' imprisonment, but allowed the time he has already been in prison, both here and in the United States, to be deducted from the sentence. Also, one year's amnesty, granted by royal decree to all prisoners when Italy entered the war, was allowed to apply in Charlton's case. As a result he will be free in less than three months.

While technically convicted, the verdict is a remarkable victory for the young American and his counsel. Public sympathy was so strongly with him because of revelations regarding his unhappy married life and the difference in the ages of the couple—he was 20 and his bride, a divorcee of more than 40—that it was freely predicted during the trial that while the law would be upheld, some way would be found to free the young American in deference to public opinion.

3 DIE IN CRASH AT GAS CITY CROSSING

Watchman's Effort to Halt Speeding Auto Fails and Engine Strikes.

Gas City, Ind., Oct. 26.—Flick Mellwain, a wealthy farmer of Pleasant township, and Mrs. Odie Allen and Mrs. Alice Wilson, both of Marion, were killed late yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad switch engine at the Main street crossing here.

Noah Bodkin, who was driving the machine, leaped from his seat when he saw the collision was unavoidable and escaped with minor injuries.

The watchman at the crossing made frantic efforts to halt the automobile, but Bodkin's attention seemed to be attracted elsewhere until his car was upon the track.

Mrs. Allen was riding in the front seat. Her head was torn off and her body was badly mutilated. Mellwain's neck was broken and his left thigh and leg were crushed. Mrs. Wilson's left leg was crushed and she was injured internally. The automobile belonged to Mellwain.

The presence of the party in Gas City was not explained. Charles Bankman, the crossing watchman, asserted he believed the party was on a "joy ride."

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

DAUGHTER IS BRIDE AT GOLDEN WEDDING

Miss Frances Wybourn Springs Surprise on Parents' Guests at Andrews Celebration.

Andrews, Ind., Oct. 26.—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Wybourn, who live on Market street, in Andrews, was celebrated Sunday. The house was lavishly decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns. Just at high noon the bride and groom, of fifty years ago were led into the parlor by Henry K. Dean, a friend of the family and their charming and accomplished daughter, Miss Frances, where Rev. J. E. Knotts, of the Christian church, was waiting to ostensibly perform the marriage ceremony for the aged couple, but instead of them being the ones, Mr. Dean and Miss Wybourn stepped out and were soon united in marriage. This was a surprise to almost the entire company.

The bride is the only single daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wybourn, who live here, but she herself has been a resident of Grand Rapids, Mich., for a number of years.

The groom has been a resident of Grand Rapids for upwards of thirty-five years. Twenty-eight years ago he organized the Dean-Hicks Printing Co., and for twenty-five years was its president and manager. He is also largely interested in the Periodical Publishing Co., of that city, publishers of "The Furniture Record," the national furniture magazine. Two years ago he resigned from active participation in the work of these two companies and has since employed his time in looking after his mining interests in Colorado.

Mr. Dean, until within the past few years, has been active in Masonic work, being past eminent commander of DeMolai commandery, No. 5, of his city and a life member of that body; he is also a life member of the Saladin temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason.

Those present besides the immediate family were: Mr. and Mrs. Drake and daughter; Mrs. R. J. Erickson and two daughters; also the son and daughter of the groom, all of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnson, of Milwaukee, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Johnson and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Johnson, of Andrews, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Knotts, of Andrews.

The newly married couple received the warmest congratulations of all those present, although it was a surprise put over them by the interested parties.

An elaborate dinner was served to the twenty-five or more guests. Besides the other presents a purse of $65 in gold

FARM DOG BITES HIRED MAN.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 26.—Philip Mole, a laborer employed at the Samuel Krill farm, east of the city, was the victim of a vicious attack by a dog that may leave him disfigured for life. The dog is one kept at the Krill farm, is a large Shepherd and always of kind disposition and no one supposed that he would attack anyone. Mole was playing with the animal, and it is thought the dog became tired of the sport and ill-natured. At any rate, he sprang at his victim, seizing him in the face with his sharp teeth and tearing great gashes in his face. Immediately following the affair Mole was brought to the city and taken to a physician's office where two doctors dressed his injuries. It was necessary to use a number of stitches in closing up the wounds.

A Lesson from the Past

Years ago, before baking powders were so well known, the housewife sometimes made her own from cream of tartar and soda.

These materials were then comparatively expensive and processes of refining had not been devised to bring them to the high state of purity of the present-day well known cream of tartar baking powders, such as Royal; and yet she never thought of buying alum, then as now a cheap and inferior substitute for cream of tartar. She wouldn't think of permitting an ounce of alum to enter her kitchen.

Yet housekeepers are to-day asked to buy alum baking powders with which to make food for their children.

The statement on the label affixed to every can naming the ingredients of which the baking powder is composed affords a method of protection against the use of undesirable kinds.

The franchise expires soon and the local company contemplates securing a franchise from the city.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 26.—While picking a bunch of bananas from a nearly empty stalk Monday, Frank Thomas, a grocer, saw curled up comfortably under a bunch of the fruit something that made him run to the telephone and send a S. 98,710 BABIES BORN IN OHIO LAST YEAR

March the Banner Month While December Record Was Lowest.

Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—Thirty-one children who were the fifteenth in the family, were born in Ohio in 1914; eight were the sixteenth children; four were the 17th; one the 18th, and one the 19th. Of the 98,710 children born during the year, 2,157 were twins, 43 triplets, and 1,355 illegitimates. March was the banner month for number of births, and December showed the lowest record.

These facts are shown by a supplementary report made public by Dr. Norton W. Bland, chief register of vital statistics. A review of birth rates for the last six years shows that Summit county has held the record for three years, including 1914, while Lake county has been lowest during three of those six years. Dr. Bland accounts for Summit county's record by citing the large number of foreigners there, with large families. The city of Painesville, in Lake county, has had an abnormally large birth rate for a number of years, he says.

The number of first children born in a family was 30,709; second, 21,822; third, 15,015; fourth, 10,283; fifth, 7,082; sixth, 4,937; seventh, 3,285; eighth, 2,226; ninth, 1,292; tenth, 803; eleventh, 458; twelfth, 242; thirteenth, 137; fourteenth, 68.

Births by months were: January, 8,514; February, 8,163; March, 9,143; April, 7,797; May, 8,150; June, 8,118; July, 8,440; August, 8,766; September, 8,373; October, 8,323; November, 7,900; December, 6,921.

TO END CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Earmit (double strength), and add to it 3 pint of hot water and 4 cones of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Exodus 23:14-25.

14 Three times thou shalt keep a feast unto me in the year.
 15 Thou shalt keep the feast of unleavened bread; (thou shalt eat unleavened bread seven days, as I command thee, in the time appointed of the month Abib; for in it thou camest out from Egypt; and none shall appear before me empty);
 16 And the feast of harvest, the firstfruits of thy labours, which thou hast sown in the field; and the feast of ingathering, which is in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labours out of the field.
 17 Three times in the year all thy males shall appear before the Lord God.
 18 Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread; neither shall the fat of my sacrifice remain until the morning.
 19 The first of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.
 20 Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared.
 21 Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions; for my name is in him.
 22 But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an adversary unto thine adversaries.
 23 For mine Angel shall go before thee, and bring thee in unto the Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites; and I will cut them off.
 24 Thou shalt not bow down to their gods, nor serve them, nor do after their works; but thou shalt utterly overthrow them, and quite break down their images.
 25 And ye shall serve the Lord your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee.

Clean Public Amusements.

Goshen is rather proud—and justifiably, too—of the fact that she has just demonstrated that it is possible to conduct a fall festival and do it successfully on a clean, wholesome basis. It extended over three days, with the streets of the city thronged each afternoon and evening with merry throngs engaged at innocent enjoyment, the event culminating in a Hallowe'en parade and demonstration that was ample in noise, in color, and enthusiasm, but without untoward incident to mar the record of the week.

The notable feature of Goshen's undertaking was the fact that it was accomplished without a saloon on the job, without a "wide open" town and without rowdiness. Three arrests for drunkenness constituted the sum-total of law-infractions that came to the surface during the three days of merry-making. Moreover, there was not a gambling device of any sort in operation, not an immoral show and not a questionable attraction of any sort in evidence. Goshen, too, is a fairly good-sized town. It was called upon, doubtless, to meet the contention in some quarters that for an occasion of this kind there should be a temporary tilting of the "lid;" that for three days there might well be some license given for indulgence not permitted at other times, and that in honor of the occasion and to guarantee its financial success there should be special dispensation that would permit the application of a bit of red paint to the town by those whose inclinations lead in that direction.

But Goshen stood resolutely against all that sort of thing, and, refusing to pander to depraved tastes, or to tolerate outlaws or indecency even on a carnival occasion, supplied clean, wholesome amusement to many thousands of people. One man whose ideas of the fitness of things permitted him to appear carrying a banner advertising a saloon in an adjoining town was even taken from the streets and given some timely and effective admonition on the impropriety of his conduct. Goshen's fall festival is said to have been clean throughout, and the city's business men who were behind the enterprise may well be gratified at its success. More than that, they have set a valuable example to other cities.

Residents of the Fifth and Sixth wards in large numbers are said to be signing remonstrances against the proposed location of an auxiliary city garbage crematory at the end of Huestis avenue, pleading that another location be chosen for the plant. It must be admitted that the prospect of a garbage incinerator in the immediate vicinity of any residential section is not an inviting one, and in view of the prevailing southwest winds the Huestis avenue location is one that is very apt to make the crematory obnoxious to a very large section of the city. Any possible inside location for such a plant is undesirable. It should be placed, despite the longer haul, at some remote point that will remove as far as possible the chances of giving offense.

Howling objections are being poured into the census bureau at Washington following the recent publication of the mid-census estimates on population by a number of Indiana cities which are morally certain the bureau has placed their figures much too low. Muncie, for instance, says no account was taken of some 8,000 to 10,000 people who reside just outside the corporate limits of that city. What Evansville thinks of the estimate that crowded her out of second place in Indiana and gave the rank to Fort Wayne, is altogether improper for publication in any well-regulated family newspaper.

Possibly because his famous Ananias club is now so crowded that there is room for no more members, Colonel Roosevelt has started a new organization of the Not-a-Good-Citizen, and he puts Henry Ford at the head of the list because the automobile man has declared for peace and no armament. When the colonel finally gets all the rest of the people sorted out he's going to find himself in rather stately loneliness as the only real thing in perfect American citizenship.

Despite the war problems, the program for national defense and the preparations for his wedding, it is to be noted that President Wilson will in a few days begin work on the preparation for his annual message to congress. Occasionally one find himself wondering how that man manages to put in the remainder of his time.

But after all, your real optimist is the automobile man. Every manufacturer is apparently already on record with the prediction that his particular car is going to beat 'em all on both sales and performance next year.

Summer's hot an' winter's stormy; in the spring there's too much rain, but the autumn brings the harvest, silver frost an' golden grain. Leaves are fallin' from the maples and the cotton-woods at last, to protect dead things of summer from the cruel winter's blast; but the golden seed of harvest that the boys are bringin' in, promises a resurrection when the springtime comes agin!—Charles B. INDIANA'S RURAL SCHOOLS.

(Indianapolis News).

At the Mississippi valley tuberculosis conference, which was held recently in this city, some astounding charges against rural schools were made by a Chicago investigator. This man said that, generally speaking, country schoolhouses were more insanitary than the poorest buildings in great cities. He offered figures which apparently showed that the country child had less opportunity to be healthy than the child of the slums. It is instructive to recall these remarks in connection with a dispatch from Winchester, Ind., which told of a visit made by Calvin N. Kendall, New Jersey state commissioner of education, to certain consolidated rural schools in Randolph county. Some time ago Mr. Kendall asked government authorities for information concerning "the best rural schools in the country," and was referred to the school of Randolph county. "I was never more surprised in my life," Mr. Kendall is reported to have said, after visiting the schools of Randolph county. "When I return to Trenton I am going to write several of my county superintendents and ask them to visit the schools here."

The existence of these model institutions in Randolph county was unknown to many people prior to the visit of Mr. Kendall, who was formerly superintendent of schools in Indianapolis. He has not been absent from the city for many years, and while here he was conversant with the state's educational affairs generally. As he was amazed at being referred back to his own state for model rural schools, it is reasonable to suppose that Randolph county's improvement has been attained within a comparatively short time. This supports the main contention in defense of rural schools as they are being built and conducted today. The old type of isolated "district" school is disappearing. The day when impoverished, ignorant or neglectful townships are expected to create and maintain the best sort of educational plant is passing. In Randolph county, consolidation has enabled the county superintendent, Mr. Driver, to gain first place among all country school districts.

Randolph county is in the east-central part of the state. It has no large cities. Winchester, the seat, having a population of perhaps 5,000 or more. This shows what other counties may do. Last year, Mr. Neal, state high school inspector, accompanied by a number of instructors, visited Randolph county. He said at that time that he regarded the "consolidated school system of Randolph county as the most remarkable and most efficient in the state." Liberality, co-operation and sustained interest are said to be responsible for Randolph's superior position.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by leaving a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.—Advertisement.

considerably worked up for fear the town will be shocked by Billy Sunday's slang.

"Why, it's an outrage against decency; it's a sacrilege to have that grater come here and talk the way he goes to our women and young girls," said a saloon keeper as he wiped the beer slop from the bar with a towel.

A weekly paper issued here by the whisky men and others who call themselves the "liberal element," devoted nearly all of its last issue to a solemn warning of the danger that threatens us.

"Many of his utterances are, to put it mildly, not Christ-like, and some of them are travesties of the teachings of Christ," says this official organ of the saloons, and again it says:

"Moreover the ease and apparent satisfaction with which Sunday consigns to perdition those he denounces is not becoming."

Very likely not. But isn't it a new and gratifying experience to get lectures on decorum from the saloons?

COFFEE CLAIMS ITS VICTIMS BY HUNDREDS

Prominent Nerve Specialist Says Coffee Drinking Has Produced a New Disease—Chronic Caffeinism.

"There is a distinct type of cases," says Dr. Wm. M. Leszynsky, consulting neurologist to the Manhattan Eye and Ear hospital, "frequent among the poorer classes of people, but by no means confined to them, of functional nervous disorder (caused by coffee drinking,) to which the elastic term 'neurasthenia' or 'chronic caffeinism' in its broadest significance may be aptly applied."

"In cases of neurasthenia, inquire into coffee drinking," adds Dr. Otto Luetjner. "I have seen hundreds of victims of this disease," continues Dr. Leszynsky, "among commercial travelers, brokers, merchants, actors, writers and men connected with the news department of the daily papers."

"They usually complain of the following symptoms, which are more or less pronounced: General headache and nervousness, apprehension in regard to some unknown impending trouble, mental depression and irritability, insomnia or restless sleep, bad dreams and sudden starting in sleep, awakening in profuse perspiration, general tremulousness and diminished muscular power, cardiac palpitations, loss of appetite, and constipation."

NOTE.—It is a fact worthy of note that the American food-drink—Instant Postum—has come widely into popular use and favor with the recognition of the harmfulness of coffee. Postum is a flavor resembling Old Java, but is entirely free from caffeine or any other harmful ingredient.—Advertisement.

"By personal interviews with the officers of private benevolences, with boards of children's guardians and boards of county charities and with public officials, such as judges, mayors, county commissioners, township trustees, institution superintendents, etc., you will secure a strong delegation to represent your county at the conference."

INDOOR LIFE MAKES FAT

TAKE OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any person who is satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout should go to a good druggist and get a box of oil of korein capsules and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight, digestion should improve, energy return, footpads become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, helps the digestion and is designed to increase the oxygen-carrying power of the blood. Any person who wants to reduce their weight 15 or 20 pounds should give this treatment a trial. There is nothing better.

PLAN TO GO THROUGH CONGRESS WITH WHOOP

Talk of Caucus on War Preparedness Recalls Story by Murdock.

By Gilson Gardner.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The war preparedness program will go through congress with a whoop. Now that the administration is for it, everybody is for it. Talk of a democratic caucus to push the program through recalls Victor Murdock's story of the Irishman who undertook for $50 to go out into the pastures and bring in the bad bull which had long terrorized the community. His instructions were to bring the bull in dead or alive. Pat was seen coming toward the road at a breakneck pace with the bull close on his heels. He had dropped the rope and thrown away his gun, but as he drew near he called out in triumphant tones: "Open the gate; I'm bringing him in alive!"

The administration will have just as little trouble bringing in the republican and progressive support for its big army and navy bills.

The "continental army" plan announced by the white house is not favored by the regular army. It is not the plan worked out by the military colleges and it was not the original recommendation of Secretary Garrison. What the regular army officers recommend is a regular army raised to a strength of about 250,000 men with a complement of field artillery and with stations so arranged that this force could be easily mobilized. It is figured that a force of this strength if made up of competent seasoned soldiers, would be sufficient to check an attempted invasion. The war authorities say that no hostile nation could land more than a hundred thousand troops at a time on our shores and that this force of 250,000 men could be mobilized and concentrated to meet such an attack and to check the invasion for such time as might be required to get the citizen-soldiers mustered and give them three months' training, by which time they could be used to supplement the regular army force.

The objection urged to the continental army plan is that it does not meet the need of a competent force which could be quickly mobilized. The federal militia which is planned would be excellent for a second line defense, but could not be mustered quickly to meet an emergency, say the experts.

An effort will be made in congress to urge the advantages of some modification of the Swiss system, which would certainly be superior to the continental army plan, which has most of the disadvantages of the present militia system and is no particular improvement over it, except in the one respect that the men are under federal authority and can be concentrated and mobilized under federal auspices.

It would not be terribly surprising if the coming session of congress saw the passage of the prohibition constitutional amendment. Those who have been following this matter closely find that the liquor interests are rather disposed to withdraw from this field of battle, falling back on the second line of entrenchments—the state legislatures. If congress passes the proposal for a federal amendment the matter is merely referred back to the states and it will require ratification by three-fourths of the state legislatures before the amendment would be added to the constitution. The liquor interests feel confident that they are quite strong enough to the legislature to prevent this and they could concentrate the expenditure of their campaign fund, saving money which is now used to influence congress. The liquor interests have been losing strength in congress since the roll call, taken last winter. A number of southern congressmen who thought they could vote against the amendment on the states' rights pretext have heard from their constituents in such unmistakable terms that they have announced conversion to the prohibition amendment.

In the United States, in the middle of summer, industry has just begun to recover from the unemployment slump to the previous winter and fall of 1914. Now, however, indications point to a general scarcity of labor during the coming autumn and winter, in sharp contrast to the stagnation and unemployment of last fall, according to statistical and other compilations published for October by The Labor Gazette. "Unemployment has reached probably the lowest point since 1907," says the Gazette. "The demand for labor has so far been easily satisfied except in a few trades connected with the manufacture of munitions and in the harvesting of enormous crops, but there are already fears being expressed by employers that a general labor scarcity will occur. With but very few exceptions, the demand for all kinds of labor has increased, while the shutting out of immigration has cut out of a large source of the supply."

A monthly review of the labor market and labor and industrial conditions will, it is understood, be a regular and important feature of The Labor Gazette, which is to be issued once a month by the bureau of applied economics in Washington.

Pianos

Of Quality

These kind of Pianos have always been associated with the name of JACOBS since this house was established in Fort Wayne thirty years ago. It is a great pleasure and satisfaction to know that we have held the confidence and esteem of the musical public so many years, and in appreciation of this allegiance the Jacobs Music House is constantly seeking higher standards of excellence in the field of Piano and Player manufacture.

It is, therefore, with a keen sense of pride that Mr. Jacobs announces his exclusive agency of an instrument that is the "last word" in artistic effort of piano production, the world famed and also the exclusive agency for

Lyon & Healy Pianos and Players

The Steinway Piano is the most sought in America today. It is freely acknowledged everywhere to be the world's standard and all musical people should realize that when they buy a Steinway Upright for $500 or a Steinway Grand for $750, (except as to size or case details), they bring into their homes the most exquisite example of piano production.

The introduction of the Steinway and Lyon & Healy lines in no way depreciates the high character of the other instruments that have for so long upheld the JACOBS name and which have done so much to popularize the JACOBS MUSIC HOUSE in Fort Wayne and all northern Indiana. In our ware rooms and private exhibition parlors are to be found all of the other famous lines that we have carried so many years, among them the following:

Kranich & Bach
Krauker

A. B. Chase
Shoninger

Henry F. Miller
And Others

We ask you to come in and make yourself at home in our store. We shall make your visit a pleasant one. From this time until Christmas we will have at all times the largest showing of high and medium grade pianos and players to be found in any city of this size in the country.

OUR TERMS Are Easy If You Wish to Avail Yourselves of Them.

As heretofore we respectfully ask the patronage of the discerning public.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

GERMAN PLAY THIS EVENING.

The German-American citizens of Ft. Wayne will be given a rare treat to-night. The German Theatre of New York, which has been largely increased in its personal owing to the war part of its ensemble on a tour through the United States under the business management of Rudolf Bach and the art direction of Gustav Olmar. Both gentlemen will be remembered here as having been members of the Oberammergau theatrical troupe, which played here last year; especially Gus. Olmar, who became a great favorite among the German-Americans; and he justly deserves this attention on the part of the public. In every part he has created, he has done his best, and he has thereby furnished many a delightful hour to his large audiences. He is ably supported by a company of first-class artists, for the most part but recently arrived here. The play to be given, "Our Hussars," has all the requisites of a good drama. The plot is free of all objectionable features; the songs are of the best, the dancing is of a nature to please everybody, and the jokes are real wit on decent lines.

THE ONLY GIRL THE ATTRACTION AT THE MAJESTIC TOMORROW

Coming to the Majestic tomorrow afternoon and evening, will be that dainty musical comedy success, "The Only Girl," which comes here direct from a year's run at the Lyric theatre, New York, where it was conceded to be the greatest musical comedy hit of the past few years in the big metropolis. It is the work of Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom. The production is under the management of its original producer, Joe Weber, who has kept the cast, chorus and orchestra intact since it was seen in New York. Among the many engaging numbers contained in the brilliant score that Victor Herbert has composed for the musical comedy success, "The Only Girl," and which already has found great popularity, are "The More I See of Others, Dear, the Better I Love You," "When You're Away," "Personality," "Antoinette," "Tell It All Over Again," "You Have to Have a Part to Make a Hit," "When Your Ankle Wears the Ball and Chain," "Equal Rights," and "You're the One for Me."

MARIE TEMPEST AT THE MAJESTIC FRIDAY

A note of much interest to the feminine portion of Miss Marie Tempest's audiences is the promise that in her present double bill, "The Duke of Killcrankie" and Barrie's "Rusdind," in which she is to be seen at the Majestic theatre, on Friday evening, October 20th, the English actress wears a bewildering assortment of frocks, quite sustaining the reputation she has long had of being one of the best gowned women on the London stage. The costumes in her present program vary from some elaborate gowns to a series of extremely beautiful street suits and furs.

SEAT SALE TOMORROW FOR "TWIN BEDS."

Local theatre-goers will have an opportunity to see "Twin Beds," the laugh festival by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo, to which New York paid the tribute of a fifty-two weeks run, in its best possible interpretation, when Selwyn and Company present this wholesome rollicking farce at the Majestic on Saturday matinee and night, with an exceptionally able cast of comedians.

"Twin Beds" tells the story of three couples who live in a fashionable big apartment house, with apartments directly above each other, who begin by being merely neighbors, end by loathing the neighborliness they cannot escape, and finally move to another part of town, only to discover that their troubles are trailing them with a Burns-like persistency.

AT THE TEMPLE.

SENIOR FITZHUGH.

It's had enough to be a Mexican and be forced to admit it, but when Benjamin Fitzhugh pretends to have been in jail, and then has to live up to his representations, he gets himself into deep water and his floundering keeps everyone but himself in roiling laughter. Fitzhugh is at the Temple this week in "The Man from Mexico," a funnier farce by the Temple players, and a premier farce has never been presented by that able company.

The story is that of a young New Yorker who gets into trouble and is sent to Blackwell's island. His friends invent for him the story that he has gone to Mexico and his wife believes it. While he is in jail she visits the institution, but does not recognize him, and when he comes home he has more trouble out of her for himself. He comes home calling himself "Senor" and goes about checking a pair of castles, doing everything the storybook "Don" does and which the real Mexicans never think of doing. The farce is far funnier than "Hello Bill," and the Temple audience Monday evening and this afternoon enjoyed every minute of the excellent offering.

AT KEITH PALACE

ROBBIE GORDONE.

In her classic reproductions of famous statues and masterpieces in porcelain and ivory, Miss Robbie Gordone heads the new Palace bill for the week. She has nine beautiful poses and changes from one to another with but a few seconds' intermission. The act is one of unsurpassed beauty, for Miss Gordone is not only one of the most beautiful women on the vaudeville stage, but the very statues she imitates are beautiful. She challenges any woman in the world to make the same number of positions in as many minutes.

Hoey & Lee are Hebrew comedians whose work has made them general Keith favorites. They not only have an unbounded lot of comedy but they have a line of new songs well sung.

Who is Milo? Is he a she or is she a he? These and many other questions will be asked many times at the Palace this week, where Milo is a star attraction. Milo's act is a guaranteed entertainment and besides gives the audience something to guess about.

Miss Virginia Olds is an added attraction at the Palace this week. She will give three dances, "The Witch Doctor," "The Rainbow" and a Japanese ceremonial dance. Miss Olds' act is a valued addition to the bill, as her dancing has attracted attention among the leading theatrical managers.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

BUSHMAN STARS AT ORPHEUM.

Even if the votes in the mammoth magazine contest a few months ago had not so adjudged him, few would gain say the statement that Francis X. Bushman is the most popular star in the world of the silent drama, and in "The Silver Voice," his latest effort on the screen, he more than lives up to his great reputation. While Mr. Bushman fills a role rather different from that in which his admirers have usually seen him—a that of a romantic lover—the opportunities which his part give him allow wide range for his distinctive dramatic talents. He portrays a character that from the very beginning wins the hearts of the spectators by his devotion to a mother afflicted with deafness, and later obtains their sympathies when he becomes similarly afflicted. Mr. Bushman is supported by a notable cast of artists, headed by Marguerite Snow, the piquant film star and Frank Bacon, the distinguished legitimate character actor, who here makes his debut on the screen.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Blanche Sweet at Jefferson.

The thousands of Blanche Sweet's admirers will see their favorite in a difficult dual role at the Jefferson today in "The Secret Sin," a late Paramount picture shown along with Dorcy travels and Pathe News.

"The Secret Sin" tells the story of Edith and Grace Martin—twin sisters and the daughters of Dan Martin, a poor man out of work. While the father is out prospecting for oil with a young man, Jack Heron, the two girls and their mother keep the home going by sewing for a manufacturer of cheap garments. Grace is the sickly sister and while out in the street, resting, a drug fiend induces her to go around the corner from her home to get a dose of morphine. She purchases some opium. Grace gets her first taste of the drug and later, when an ignorant doctor gives her morphine to deaden pain, she becomes a secret drug fiend.

The father discovers oil for Heron and the family becomes wealthy. Heron meets the two sisters and falls in love with Edith. This arouses Grace's jealousy. Edith discovers that Grace uses morphine and takes it from her. Grace tells Heron that Edith takes the drug, and so plans it that Heron discovers Edith with morphine in her possession, but his love for her does not change.

The place where Grace has been getting the drug is closed and she suggests to Heron that Edith will probably go to Chinatown after more. The three go to Chinatown for a dinner and Grace slips away to purchase opium and goes to a real opium den. Edith follows her but enters a fake den, is arrested and taken to jail. Heron goes on her bail. In the meantime Grace is taken out of the real den, robbed and left in the street, but is found by Jack and Edith returning to search for her. Jack discovers that Grace is the real drug victim, and he and Edith are happy as Grace is taken to the country to be cured of the vice.

Fort Wayne Provision Co.
Sues Charles Hoy and
Charles Clark.

It is not usual in suits for a receiver-ship to ask that the defendant be made receiver, but that is one of the petitions in a suit filed in the superior court by the Fort Wayne Provision company against Charles Hoy and Charles Clark. The complaint alleges that Hoy owes the plaintiff $100 and that when Hoy gave time ago sold the Enterprise restaurant, 611 Calhoun street, to Clark, the law relating to bulk sales was violated and that the transfer therefore is invalid and void because the plaintiff was not notified that it might protect its interests. Monument Commission to Take Time to Select Sculptor.

The Anthony Wayne Monument commission will not act in haste in making choice of a sculptor to furnish a model for the monument that is to be erected as a memorial to the founder of Fort Wayne. It will be a matter of perhaps three months before the commission reaches that stage of its labors. The first question to be determined is whether competition shall be widened and other sculptors invited to submit models, or choice made from the work of the three sculptors who already have models here. The commission may invite an expert to advise with them and assist in choosing a model without knowing whose work is being selected. A meeting will be held next week to discuss the first step of the program. Published statements that at a meeting to be held next Tuesday the commissioners will award a contract for designing and superintending construction of the monument are entirely without foundation. The commission will do nothing of the sort next Tuesday.

AGREEMENT IS RENEWED.

Government May Fail to Make Out Case Against Accused Men.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Officials of the department of justice expressed doubt today whether the federal government can make out a case against the men implicated in the plot to blow up munitions ships sailing from the United States. Detailed information as to what evidence has been collected by the New York police or the secret service was still lacking today and the department will not reach a decision in the matter until all data has been examined. The bureau of investigation has been interested in the case only indirectly, but Chief A. B. Bielasky said today that he does not expect to take any active part in the investigation.

FT. WAYNE MEN SIGN THE CALL

Rev. E. S. Shumaker, state superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, Nonpartisan Movement.

The campaign, which is to be waged on a scale never before attempted in this state, is described as a nonpartisan movement. Representatives of all political parties as well as church and reform leaders, professional and business men, educators and men and women from all walks of life, are included in the signers of the call for the convention.

The movement contemplates the placing of the prohibition question squarely before the people of the state, the perfection of an organization which will work for the nomination of "dry" candidates at the primaries next March, and the election of those men, regardless of party, to the legislature next fall to insure the passage of the state law in 1917. The forces will also work, the call says, for the nomination and election of thirteen representatives and one senator who will vote for a national prohibition amendment to the federal constitution.

The signers are representative citizens and they come from 134 towns and cities in seventy counties. On the list are 220 republicans, 150 democrats, 77 progressives, 59 prohibitionists, 8 socialists, 16 independents and 172 not classified as to party.

In the number are thirty-three church leaders, twenty-one manufacturers, eight college presidents, twenty-two editors and forty-three officers and trustees of the Anti-Saloon league.

WHAT HUGHIE SAYS ABOUT FRIEND LOOIE

World-Famed Slinger of Baseball Yarns Tells of Local Man.

Every now and then when Ring Lardner's friend, Hughie Fullerton, gets writer's cramp doing stuff on the dim and distant future and the dimmer and more distant past, he cocks his foot on his desk and tells his man Friday to bring on another Looie Heilbroner story. Here are portions of his latest pean of praise for the local little giant of baseball dope:

"Baseball's clearing house, located at Fort Wayne, Ind., is perhaps the oldest and at the same time the most interesting example of the commercial development of the national game."

"Up in a suite of offices a little man whose hair has grown gray doing ball players, sits amidst a maze of figures that would drive the hardest dope fiend to the country if sane, and amidst a tumult of sixes and eights and sevens and twos, and all combinations of figures possible, calmly sorts out the records of about 8,000 baseball players, follows their doings day by day, reports what they have done to owners of baseball clubs in many parts of the country, and supplies the information that sends scouts scurrying all over America in search of second Ty Cobbs and Walter Johnsons."

"The keeper of this maze of figures is Louis Heilbroner, president of the Central league, former scout of the Cincinnati team, and a man who since a mere boy has been associated with baseball."

"In his office from five to eight skilled youths, clever at figures, work constantly compiling statistics. The daily records of from 1,700 to 1,800 men are carried forward, so that, at the end of each day, the players' record and average is complete."

"It was hard and expensive work to get the complete record but once complete Looie compiled it in the baseball bluebook, a wonderful work of condensation, and after that players rushed to send in their records. Every manager, owner and most of the sporting editors must have the bluebook and sometimes Looie almost breaks even on it."

"Glad tidings these."

Indianapolis, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Kern, wife of Senator John W. Kern, who will entertain a party of friends at a box party at the Washington and Lee football game here Oct. 31, has announced a reception at her home the night after the game in honor of "Red" Schantz, captain of the Virginia eleven, who is a nephew of Mrs. Kern. Schantz, who is the star of the general team, is a Hoosier boy, residing at Logansport.

"Duffy" Lewis Comes Home Wearing Same Sized Hat as He Did Before He Became Star of World's Series.

DUFFY LEWIS AND HIS WIFE

San Francisco, Oct. 25.—"Just had the breaks, that was all. I happened to come up in pines when they needed hits to win, and I was lucky enough to crack the ball. Outgassed their pitchers, that was the way it happened."

It was George (Duffy) Lewis talking, star of the late world's series, just returned from Boston—the same Duffy person that left these parts last spring, bound for the Red Sox training camp. He's still wearing the same size hat and his chest measurements remain as they were before.

There's no pompous attempt to analyze pitchers or to criticize this play and that. Just a straightforward assertion that he was working above his speed and luck was with him.

"Gee, but it's good to be back home again," declared the baseball star. "No baseball for me this winter. I just want to take a good rest."

The most valued possession the hero had when he arrived was a check for his share of the world's series money—$3,325.35.

And Duffy gave the check to his wife. Half a dozen tempting vaudeville offers were spurned by Lewis. He was promised big money for a ten-minute skit in New York, but couldn't see it that way, preferring to hit for the west and home.

"While the wide world was centering on Grover Alexander, they forgot that we had some good pitchers, too," asserted Lewis. "Personally, I don't think Alexander was as good in any one of the big games as he showed on the coast last fall. So much publicity about how he had to beat the Boston club single handed probably hurt his prospects. Our pitchers—Foster, Shore and Leonard, were in great shape and twirled fine ball."

"Dutch" Leonard had a great year with the Red Sox. He was so excited about beating Alexander that he tossed me all

THIRTY-FIVE AND A CHAMPION.

Frank Kramer Shows What Determination and Adherence to Simple Rules of Health Will Do for a Man.

(By Brown Holmes).

Thirty-five years of age and world's champion for the fifteenth consecutive year.

That's the record of Frank Kramer, of East Orange, N. J., as the bicycle racing season comes to a close. Not many persons are tossing their hats into the air over the bike races these days, but Kramer is a marvel among athletes and his record is a lesson of what can be accomplished through will power and adherence to simple health rules.

Men who hold or win championships at 25 are few. Lardner couldn't do it in tennis, football and others failed to do it in the ring. Kramer has been champion fifteen years in a game where the average rider can stand the grind about five years.

When Kramer became a professional he decided to make bike racing his life work. He laid down certain rules and has kept them.

He does not smoke. He does not drink intoxicants. He shuns the bright lights. He goes to bed at 9 o'clock and gets up at 6.

He eats only one real big meal a week.

Success in the United States and Europe brought many temptations. Kramer could have been fêted, wine and dined many times, but he went to bed instead of to wine suppers.

Once in a while he stays up late enough to see a show and eat a great big meal. That's his only dissipation.

As a boy he was sickly and his father bought him a bike to keep him outdoors. After he had a wheel two years he won the amateur championship in 1908 and repeated the next year. In 1901 he became a professional. He has seen thousands of riders come and go. He has won thousands of races. He has earned $125,000 and is under contract for two more years to the Newark, N. J., velodrome at $7,500 a year. He owns his home, an automobile and stocks.

This season found him as good as ever if not better. Opponents say of him: "In fifteen or twenty years, when our youngsters are trying to win bike prizes, Kramer will be there taking them away from them."

He has a number of teams but he is willing to try out against the locals but he will not take them because he realizes that it would simply mean a repetition of the early season's walkways. However, he figures that he will be able to pull down something good and is sitting up nights trying to find the right eleven.

Manager Lophore, of the Friars, is growing wild-eyed and hollow cheeked looking for a suitable game for next Sunday. He has a number of teams but he is willing to try out against the locals but he will not take them because he realizes that it would simply mean a repetition of the early season's walkways. However, he figures that he will be able to pull down something good and is sitting up nights trying to find the right eleven.

GLAD TIDINGS THESE.

Indianapolis, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Kern, wife of Senator John W. Kern, who will entertain a party of friends at a box party at the Washington and Lee football game here Oct. 31, has announced a reception at her home the night after the game in honor of "Red" Schantz, captain of the Virginia eleven, who is a nephew of Mrs. Kern. Schantz, who is the star of the general team, is a Hoosier boy, residing at Logansport.

Brynes Aires, at the present rate of increase, will pass Chicago in 1930 and be the second city of the hemisphere.

"Duffy" Lewis Comes Home Wearing Same Sized Hat as He Did Before He Became Star of World's Series.

San Francisco, Oct. 25.—"Just had the breaks, that was all. I happened to come up in pines when they needed hits to win, and I was lucky enough to crack the ball. Outgassed their pitchers, that was the way it happened."

It was George (Duffy) Lewis talking, star of the late world's series, just returned from Boston—the same Duffy person that left these parts last spring, bound for the Red Sox training camp. He's still wearing the same size hat and his chest measurements remain as they were before.

There's no pompous attempt to analyze pitchers or to criticize this play and that. Just a straightforward assertion that he was working above his speed and luck was with him.

"Gee, but it's good to be back home again," declared the baseball star. "No baseball for me this winter. I just want to take a good rest."

The most valued possession the hero had when he arrived was a check for his share of the world's series money—$3,325.35.

And Duffy gave the check to his wife. Half a dozen tempting vaudeville offers were spurned by Lewis. He was promised big money for a ten-minute skit in New York, but couldn't see it that way, preferring to hit for the west and home.

"While the wide world was centering on Grover Alexander, they forgot that we had some good pitchers, too," asserted Lewis. "Personally, I don't think Alexander was as good in any one of the big games as he showed on the coast last fall. So much publicity about how he had to beat the Boston club single handed probably hurt his prospects. Our pitchers—Foster, Shore and Leonard, were in great shape and twirled fine ball."

"Dutch" Leonard had a great year with the Red Sox. He was so excited about beating Alexander that he tossed me all around the clubhouse after the game. "That last home run I hit I'll never forget. The Phillies just dropped their heads as if they had been struck a blow. It took all the snap out of them."

Here's how the great games were generated: "Carrigan was spokesman for the club, and together with Wagner did the coaching on the bases. Ray Collins was the man behind the guns and kept record of every ball that was pitched to every batter. So after each game, we would hold a conference the next morning. Then Collins would tell each one of us just what had been pitched and the board of strategy tried to figure out what was to be expected the next time up. We had as good a line on the pitchers as could be had, and I am sure it was a big asset."

Duffy didn't tarry in San Francisco. With Mrs. Duffy he and a handful of friends hopped on the train for Sonoma, Cal., Lewis' home, called by Jack London "The Valley of the Moon." A reception was being held there for "Duffy Duffy," as they call him.

As Duffy that reception meant more than the cheers of the mighty crowd that greeted him when he stepped that homer in the sixth inning of the final game, tying the score. He sat almost dumbfounded through it all, an appreciative smile playing tag with his features.

And time and again Mrs. Duffy wanted to throw her arms around him, but—well, she didn't, yet she wasn't fooling anybody, to use an expression of the game. Her best delivery was hit to all corners of the lot.

The climax of the all night celebration came at 5:30 a. m. when the engineer of a freight train tied down his whistle, waking everybody within a radius of five miles. Everybody appreciated the engineer's spirit, but if that man visits that community in the near future his life won't be worth a thin dime.

THIRTY-FIVE AND A CHAMPION.

Frank Kramer Shows What Determination and Adherence to Simple Rules of Health Will Do for a Man.

(By Brown Holmes).

Thirty-five years of age and world's champion for the fifteenth consecutive year.

That's the record of Frank Kramer, of East Orange, N. J., as the bicycle racing season comes to a close. Not many persons are tossing their hats into the air over the bike races these days, but Kramer is a marvel among athletes and his record is a lesson of what can be accomplished through will power and adherence to simple health rules.

Men who hold or win championships at 25 are few. Lardner couldn't do it in tennis, football and others failed to do it in the ring. Kramer has been champion fifteen years in a game where the average rider can stand the grind about five years.

When Kramer became a professional he decided to make bike racing his life work. He laid down certain rules and has kept them.

He does not smoke. He does not drink intoxicants. He shuns the bright lights. He goes to bed at 9 o'clock and gets up at 6.

He eats only one real big meal a week.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious
give "California Syrup
of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.
If your little one is out-of-sorts, listless, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little ones' liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company.—Advertisement.

GIRL DRINK VICTIMS ARE ON INCREASE

Serious Problem Confronts

Mothers of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—Drunkenness among young girls is on the increase in Philadelphia. Mrs. Albert Smith, head of the city police matrons, told the members of the Women's Social union of the Reformed church, at their fall meeting in the Reformed church building recently.

Mrs. Smith said drinking among young girls is the most serious problem that is facing the mothers of the city. "Something is wrong with our family life to bring about such conditions as the police matrons are finding," she said. "There is a most decided increase in drinking among young women of the better class families. One police district's records showed that in one month there were sixty-five arrests of women for drunkenness to thirty-two arrests of men."

"And that isn't all. Go on the central streets any night about midnight, and you'll find drunken girls. These girls have been to drinking places in fashionable hotels with men who get them drunk and then are ashamed to be seen with them on the street. They take them near police stations and leave them."

"They are not ignorant and poor girls. They most often are girls from the better families and live on the good streets of the city. You women must do something."

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

building activities with interest and declare that more construction work is being done during the late months this year than for a number of years.

"There was a great scare in building circles over the talk of extended 'hard times' earlier in the year," declared a local contractor. "Despite the backward slump which resulted to building in other cities in Fort Wayne's case, we managed to keep about even with last year. Now the property owners and real estate men feel that there is little ground for the fear that financial conditions are too backward to warrant investment in building improvements. They have got over the fear and are setting out to get ready for a really prosperous era. Had it not been for the calamity shouters' alarms building in Fort Wayne this season would have far exceeded that of last year."

Ideal weather conditions for the past few weeks have also played a part in keeping building going. Likewise there is plenty of labor available in Fort Wayne. The word that Fort Wayne is prosperous has gone around the country. Hence numbers of skilled mechanics have come to this city. While there is no urgent need for more carpenters and allied craftsmen, those who are here are almost all finding employment. This is pointed to as indicative of the good times Fort Wayne is enjoying.

There has been much activity in residence building circles. There are more dwellings going up now than is usual at this time of the year. A number of large jobs are also under way.

TWO CHILDREN HAD CROUP.

The two children of J. W. Nix, merchant of Cleveland, Ga., had croup last winter. One was a boy of 6, the other a girl of 3 years. Mr. Nix writes: "Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe and couldn't talk. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it entirely cured them." This reliable medicine should be in every home for it gives immediate relief from colds, coughs and croup, heals raw, inflamed throat and loosens phlegm. Dreier Drug Co.—Advertisement.

DIDN'T MISS PAY DAY IN 51 YEARS

Fred Kramer Quits Pennsy Shops Next Saturday With Good Record.

Fifty-one years and six months in service without missing a pay day and but very few single days is the remarkable record established by Frederick Kramer, a painter at the Pennsylvania shops, who goes on the pension list next Monday, having passed his seven-tieth birthday. Mr. Kramer was born in Weidenheim, Germany, October 3, 1847, came to America in 1862 and to Fort Wayne the following year. April 7, 1864, he took employment in the paint department of the Pennsylvania shops and has missed but very few days from work. He is still a rugged, strong man and able to perform the duties of his position, but the rules forbid him to work next Saturday.

There are two other Pennsylvania shopmen who will go on the pension list next Monday. They are laborers in the car shops. John Lindeman was born October 3, 1845, at Esterwegen, Germany, began work in the car shops July, 1883, and has worked there continuously since. The combined services of these three veterans is 112 years.

FEDERATION HAS MEETING.

Handles Vocational and Street Car Strike Matters Last Night.

At the meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor last night the vocational committee made its report on the commercial course at the Fort Wayne schools, which was not very encouraging and caused President J. D. Shaw to remark: "I believe that the school board and superintendent are breaking faith with the Fort Wayne laboring people in their promise to start a commercial course in the Fort Wayne schools." Some of the other delegates at the meeting made speeches on similar lines, asserting that no effort was being made by the board to introduce the commercial course in the vocational department of the schools. The federation instructed Treasurer Werkman to give the $300 necessary for the release of Frank Carpenter, who was arrested yesterday, charged with taking part in the attack Friday night on the street car conductor and motorman on the Lakeside line. The federation also endorsed the new agreement prepared by the Meat Cutters, which provides for a minimum wage of $15 to $18 and time and a half for overtime, a ten and a half hour working day and a half holiday each week during the months of May, June, July and August. ASK FOR INCREASED WAGES.

The movement started by the Washburn shopmen for more wages and better working conditions several months ago has advanced to definite point and the men are now asking an increase of four cents on the hour. They have held several conferences with E. E. Neumann, superintendent of motive power, and are now holding conferences with General Manager S. E. Cotten, at St. Louis, with good prospects of an amicable adjustment. Fort Wayne men who left last night to take part in the conference are Machinist L. D. Miller, Blacksmith N. E. Weaver, Boilermaker Edward Schold and Pipefitter F. J. Schwanz. This will mean, based upon a forty hour per week working schedule, an increase of $1.60 per week.

DOUBLED UP BETWEEN CARS.

William Horstman, of 256 Baker street, was "doubled up" like a jack-knife at 9:30 o'clock last night, when the cars he was riding between were driven together by a switch engine. Mr. Horstman was sitting on the bumpers when the accident happened and his escape from more serious injury was miraculous. Both legs were hurt, but no bones were broken. Dr. Bolman attended the unfortunate man. The city ambulance was called to the Pennsylvania yards to take Horstman home after the accident.

EYELID BADLY CUT.

Chief Inspector A. Roth, of the Pennsylvania, sustained a painful injury last week when his hand slipped and the crank of a gasoline engine struck him in the face, breaking his eyeglasses and driving a piece of broken glass through his eyelid. Fortunately the sight was not affected. The accident happened on the farm.

HOW TO HANDLE EXPLOSIVES.

With liquid and solid explosives A. F. Estes demonstrated the right and wrong way of handling explosives while in transit, either by freight or express. The lecture was given at the Commercial club and was attended by express and railway employees of this city and the surrounding towns. It was one of many lectures of its kind that have been given in Fort Wayne.

WOODIN IS IMPROVING.

Walter J. Woodin, the Pennsylvania engineer, who passed through a most difficult operation a few days ago, is said to be doing well and gives promise of speedy and complete recovery. Mr. Woodin was on the operating table nearly three hours. He suffered from abscesses of the stomach.

INVESTIGATING A PROPOSITION.

Machinist Clifford Benoy, of the Pennsylvania shops, has obtained a leave of absence and gone to Toledo to stay a few weeks. It is said that he has under contemplation going into business up there and is taking the lay off to investigate the proposition.

TOWED INTO CHARLESTON.

Steamer Colorado, Afric Sea, is Saved by Tugs.

New York, Oct. 26.—The maritime exchange today received a dispatch from Charleston, S. C., stating that the steamer Colorado, which yesterday was reported on fire off Cape Roman, had been towed to Charleston by tugs.

The captain and crew of the Colorado were taken off their burning ship by the steamer Suwanee when it seemed as if the Colorado, which was heavily laden with cotton, would be destroyed by the fire.

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save 52 by Making it at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2 1/2 ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 64 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.00—a clear saving of nearly 82. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membrane in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiaicol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

81 years. Death followed an extended illness due to senility. He had been bedfast for the past ten weeks.

Born in Saxen, Altenburg, Germany, he came to America in 1852, and directly to this city, where he had resided ever since. DEPUTY FACTORY INSPECTOR HERE

Investigating Violations of Child Labor Law of Year 1913.

Deputy State Factory Inspector Kayser, of Indianapolis, is in the city looking after the duties pertaining to his office. One of his principal duties on this visit is to investigate any violation of the child labor law of 1913, which prohibits the employment of any child under the age of fourteen years and also under sixteen and over fourteen years when they have not at first procured a legal certificate from the superintendent of the Fort Wayne public schools. Another violation is the employment of any child over fourteen years of age who has not passed through the fifth grade in school. Not only does the deputy state factory inspector investigate the conditions in the factories of this city, but will make a visit to all offices of employers who employ children.

The school officials of the city are of the opinion that many employers as well as citizens do not understand the child labor law and that the offenses in many cases are not the congruous of willing disobedience but because they are not either acquainted with the requirements of the law or do not know that such a law exists.

Employers who violate this law are putting themselves liable to a heavy penalty. Much annoyance is caused to the attendance officers by employers neglecting to send back to the office notice of the discharge or abandonment of the employment of children. Any child, boy or girl, over fourteen and under sixteen, must be employed or must go to school.

Since the child labor law has gone into effect the city school superintendent's office has issued 1,039 permits to children over fourteen years of age who have completed the fifth grade in school in accordance with the terms of the law.

HOBBO BEERFEST IS RAIDED BY POLICE

Crowd, Including Two or Three Boys, Arraigned for Vagrancy.

A squad of policemen raided a hobo camp along the Washburn railway tracks west of Fairfield avenue, early Monday evening, and gathered in nine fellows, most of them young and two or three of them more boys. The crowd was having a beerfest and had been "rummaging the can" to nearby saloons until the police. Two or three of the hoboes had whisky and were very drunk. Judge Kerr split up the gang when its members were arraigned Tuesday morning on charges of vagrancy, turning four of them loose and holding two until Wednesday and two until Thursday.

Easy for Mistress May.

May Boitet, who was in a few days ago and allowed to go after pleading guilty to a drunk charge, was back again Tuesday morning with a similar plea. She was found down and out at Montgomery and Lafayette streets, where she was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Young. Judge Kerr fined her $1 and costs and she went to jail for five days.

Warren Hearing Again Postponed.

Charles L. Warren, or Commodore Perry Hall, as the case may be, was in court again to have a preliminary hearing on the charge of passing fraudulent checks, but the case was again continued, October 29 being fixed as the new date. The state asked for the continuance and Frank A. Furick, counsel for Warren, consented.

Other City Court Cases.

Gust Willig, who comes more or less frequently, was fined $1 and costs on a drunk charge. He had caused some excitement on the north side.

William Logie, who has been making a nuisance of himself about the Orpheum theater for some time and had drawn a knife on an attendant who tried to make him leave the place, besides annoying a young lady who sells tickets by following her, was continued until Wednesday and put under bond. His mental condition will be inquired into.

Herman Hemmerley's father, an aged man, testified against the son and said he had been drunk for several days and caused trouble at home. Hemmerley was fined $5 and costs and went to jail.

Ray Carter, charged with assault and battery on John Finney, Saturday night, as a result of which Finney is in the hospital with a fractured skull, was continued until November 2 under $200 bond. Carter is employed at the Hedges saloon on East Columbia street.

G. H. McBride, a jitney driver, was tried for violating the traffic ordinances and was given an indefinite continuance. He was warned not to take aboard night passengers in his Ford car again. He ran into two persons at the transfer corner.

John Cook, of Berne, Ind., a man 73 years old, came to Fort Wayne Monday to shop, got very drunk and was locked up for safe-keeping. He was allowed to start back home.

Mike Koehler, charged with drunkenness and making trouble, was continued until Wednesday.

Charles Hershberger, whose wife had him arrested for getting drunk and abusing her, was turned loose, after his wife had interceded for him.

Amos Preston, the negro who shot Joe Davis, another colored man, two weeks ago, was continued until November 9, Davis still being unable to appear. Preston protested against the delay. He carried his now familiar pocket bible with him into court.

James Gray, aged 74 years, who said he had been ordered away from the poor house after being committed there, was arraigned for vagrancy and given a chance to leave the city.

Notice, Royal Neighbors!

All members of Fort Camp, T.S.R. are earnestly requested to meet at Westminster Presbyterian church Thursday, at 2 p. m. to attend the funeral of Neighbor Clara Grichel. Jitney service to cemetery.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Declines took place in the wheat market today on account of unresponsive cables and because of favorable weather in the northwest. Opening prices, which ranged from 1.01 to 1.01 1/2 up, with December at 1.01 to 1.01 1/2 and May at 1.03 to 1.03 1/2, were followed by a material setback all around. The close was steady, 5/8 to 3/4 c net lower, with December at 1.00 1/2 and May at 1.02 1/2 @ 1.03 1/2. Corn—unchanged to 1/4 @ 1/2 c lower the market underwent a moderate general ease. The close was steady at a net gain of 1/4 @ 3/4 c to 1/2 c. Traders in oats took their cue from the bullish action of other grain. Lack of support weakened provisions.

Women Save $5 Using Gasoline

Says it is so easy to dry clean and nothing shrinks, fades or wrinkles.

Save $5 to $10 by doing your own dry cleaning. Here is a simple and inexpensive way to clean and brighten children's coats, suits, caps, woolen garments, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, kid gloves and shoes, furs, neckties, ribbons, silks, satins, lace, yokes, silk shirtwaists, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it readily dissolves. Then put in the goods to be cleaned. After a little rubbing out they come looking as clean and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

Any woman can do home dry cleaning in a few moments at little cost and save lots of money. It is as simple and easy as laundering, and you can't make a mistake. Your grocer or any garage will supply the gasoline, and your druggist will sell you two ounces of solvite which is simply a gasoline soap. Then a wash boiler or large dishpan completes your home dry cleaning outfit.—Advertisement.

NO ELECTION AT GRABILL

Upon advice of their attorney pending a decision by the state attorney general, no election will be held at Grabill this fall. The attorney did not regard it as a good policy to nominate city tickets for the reason that the 1915 legislature did not provide a time for holding elections this fall. Notwithstanding, three other incorporated towns will hold elections on Nov. 2 as follows: Monroeville, New Haven and Woodburn.

HOG FEEDING DEMONSTRATION.

A hog feeding demonstration has been started on the farm of J. F. Butt in Maumee township. The purpose of the demonstration is to show the value of hogging down corn and soy beans. Mr. Butt is the second largest hog raiser in the state.

To Remove Unsightly Hairs And Other Aids to Beauty

Except the electric needle, there is absolutely only one safe, sure and painless way to get rid of unsightly hairs and that is to dissolve them. Pastes, powders and razors only shave them off and in time they are as thick and as stubbly as a man's beard. Fashion now demands that neck, arms and armpits be devoid of hairs. Any woman can get rid of these unsightly blemishes in a few minutes if she will but get from her druggist one ounce of simple auto solution and apply to the hairy places. It will take just about three minutes to dissolve the hairs away entirely, leaving the skin soft and white without a scar or irritation of any kind.

Blackheads are another of the unsightly blemishes that many women are troubled with. Squeezing and pinching do no good and leave the skin full of holes. The only way to get rid of the pesky things is to dissolve them. Get a little powdered norexin from your druggist, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge and rub briskly over the blackheads; in about a minute they will be entirely dissolved, leaving the skin soft and smooth without a mark of any kind.

Roughness and redness of the hands can very easily be overcome and the skin left soft and velvety by using at night the following simple cream lotion. Dissolve one ounce of zincine in a pint of hot water. This makes a beautiful white soapy cream and if used liberally will soon change a rough, red, spotted skin into one of velvety, peach-like loveliness.—Advertisement.

SUNDAY PUTS CASE UP TO CHICAGO MEN

Evangelist Does Not Mince
Words in Outlining His Campaign Plans.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—"Billy" Sunday squared off before 400 preachers and business men yesterday afternoon, and figuratively he cut them, pulled them, and stood them up in the corner to reflect on their shortcomings, and among them there was not one to protest.

"Billy" talked to them in a characteristic Sunday way and made them like it. He smiled and frowned, and shook his head in a warning manner and they nodded approval. Whatever they came for, it was evident they went away his friends.

Must Be In Earnest.
"If you are not ready to go into this fight for God in earnest, you had better get out now," he told the committee of 100 and the others assembled on the nine-fifth floor of the Hotel LaSalle.

"It is going to be the best opportunity ever offered to show whether there is a streak of saffron in your make-up."

"Some of you say: 'I like you, but I don't like your methods.' Well, then, I won't come. Wherever I go I take my methods with me."

"You give more time to your business in one day," he said again, "than you give to religion in six months. If you didn't pay more attention to your business than you have been in religion."

But the listeners were groggy for punishment. Heads went back at the first two or three blows, but after that the 400 sat and took it. They became enthusiastic, "Good!" they shouted. "That's right!" they answered. In less than five minutes "Billy" had them all coming his way. It was a clean-up for the evangelist.

"If we can wake up this town," he said, "it will go for Jesus Christ so fast you won't be able to see anything but for and dust."

"If you fellows get back to this fight we will have the devil in a hospital in a few weeks."

Mr. Sunday said he was an old-fashioned preacher, preaching the old-fashioned gospel.

Assails the "Highbrows."
"Highbrow preachers are wearing on shoe leather looking for jobs," he said.

"One day a preacher said to me: 'Why don't you preach like I do?' and I said: 'If I preached the way you do I would be worth no more than you are.'"

"Billy" outlined briefly the plans for his Chicago campaign. A tabernacle is to be built in some central location. That is a mandatory requirement. He has his own tabernacle builder. He wants a structure which will seat about 20,000.

MAN'S LIFE IS LONGER.

Average Length Increases Ten Years in
Past 25, Says Doctor.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Within the last twenty-five years the average length of man's life has been increased ten years, according to Dr. Victor C. Vaughn, dean of the medical college of the University of Michigan, one of the speakers before the central states conference on problems of social hygiene which held its concluding sessions here today. Dr. Vaughn said it is possible that humanity if the present advance in medical learning is continued will see the average length of life of the next generation increased 15 years. Such longevity has been due, he said, to the enlightenment of the public on how to live according to the rules of medical science.

Old Nick Nimble

No. 1.—Once when traveling through the rocky mountains, I was pursued by a giant bear! The monster menaced me and I was untroubled!

No. 2.—Once I could feel his hot breath as he snarled up on me—his teeth a few feet away from my legs. I was trying to think of the best way to foil the monster!

No. 3.—Suddenly my mind made up, I landed a terrific kick at the brute! I kicked him so hard that the force of the movement turned the bear completely inside out!

No. 4.—Thus, the bear, his body completely turned walked backwards and was soon lost to view among the hills. I then went ahead in peace!

SHRUBBERY

We have just received a fine line of white, pink and red azaleas, single altheas, hydrangeas, dentys, lilacs, honeysuckle, syringas, snowberry and weycelia. We have only a limited stock of shrubbery for fall planting and would suggest that if in need of any to call as early as possible, as our supply will not last long.
